Established in 1869.} "Let Us See To it that A Government of the People, for the People and by the People, Shall Not perish from the Earth."—A. LINCOLN. Terms: $1.50 per Year

VOL. XXIV BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING. NOVEMBER 23, 1893. NO 46

Editorial Briefs.

THE President is now wresting with his message, to be sent to Congress.

GRESHAM and CLEVELAND favor a monarchial form of government at Hawaii; but the great body of the American people do not.

J. SCOTT HARRISON, Democrat, a brother of Ex-Pres. Harrison has been appointed Collector of Customs for the port of Kansas City by Pres. Cleveland.

EX-CONFEDERATE Hoke Smith is not feeling very well. The dose the soldiers gave his "policy," one day last week drove him into the hospital.

SENATOR Quay has gone to St, Lucie, Florida, where he will remain until the meeting of cougress in December, to give battle to the charts of Free Trade.

THE soldiers and their countless friends were only at target practice on the 7th inst. In the near future they will shoot solid for big game—a Republican congress and a comrade-statesman of McKinley make for President.

AS YET there has been no audible expression from Hoke Smith as to the cause for the defeat of his party. Evidently, he is playing "mousy," or, hatching another scheme to hit the boys who whipped him and his treasonable pals in the years '61 to '65.

FROM the N. Y. Press: The empty dinner pails in New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Iowa made themselves heard on Election day. The echo penetrated even the subterranean in the National Capitol, where the House Ways and Means Committee has been framing a bill to revive the languishing industries of Great Britain.

PROTECTION THAT PROTECTS.

The election of President Cleveland, last year, had the appearance of a landslide from the protective principle to that of "for revenue only." The democratic success, one year ago, was brought about by the working men who claimed that the manufacturers derived all the benefits from the protective principle whilst their wages were reduced year by year. Voters imbibing such notions would naturally try some other system in endeavoring to better their financial conditions. If they would not, they would hardly be human. Their ideas of the situation, at that time, if correct, and that was the general impression prevailing among them, it would have been better for the whole country for the manufacturers to have divided their protective profits with their workmen.

One year goes around after Cleveland's election; a money panic sweeps over the whole country and hundreds of thousand of workmen are thrown out of employment reducing many of them to penury and destitution. At the recent election these same workmen overwhelmingly voted for the party of protection thereby reversing their votes of last year, and it has the appearance that they intend to place the party of protection in power again. If such should be the case, and the protected manufacturers should refuse to divide their protective profits with their workmen, then there will be an end to the protective party in this Republic. What American workingmen demand is a kind of protection that raises their wages above the pauper labor of Europe and that benefits them in the same proportion that it benefits their employers.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 20, 1893

A more disappointed crowd than the members of the administration it would be hard to find. So certain were they that Saturday's steamer from Hawaii would bring news of the restoration of the Queen that every employe of the State Department was compelled to take an oath of secrecy beforehand, in order to prevent any of the details contained in the dispatch from Minister Willis getting out prematurely. It was clear, however, from other dispatches that the infamous programe had miscarried, and the belief here is that the monarchy will not be restored, and that Mr. Cleveland is at last beginning to realize that between the one-sided representations of Minister paramount Blount and Secretary Gresham's hatred of ex-President Harrison, he has been hoodwinked into taking a course that has been more generally and, perhaps, more harshly criticised than any single act of any American President.

The great question with the administration now is how it can best sneak out of its unpleasant predicament, although it is believed that positive assurances have been given to the British Ambassador and the Japanese Minister that the monarchy would be restored in Hawaii it is not thought that any attempt will be made to do it, at least not openly or by force. In fact friends of the administration are now trying to deny what they were a few days ago positively asserting as to the nature of the instructions given to Minister Willis. Should it end in Mr. Cleveland's making Gresham the scapegoat and throwing him out of the cabinet there will be no tears shed by either republicans or democrats, as Gresham's course in this matter has caused him to lose the few friends his political somersault had left him.

Representive Bourke Cockran, the New York Congressman who has been sat upon by Tammany because he objected to being a mere puppet of Croker's threw a bombshell among his democratic colleagues on the House Ways and Means committee who had in his absence decided that an income tax should be attached to the new tariff bill, when he informed them that an income tax imposed by a democratic administration and Congress would result in making New York City, now the democratic Gibraltar, a republican stronghold; he also told them that this proposed tax was an attempt by certain would-be leaders of the democratic party to pander to the populists and warned them that if it was carried into effect it would prove disastrous to the democratic party. Mr. Cockran's remarks created a momentary stampede among his fellow democrats on the committee, but will hardly result in getting the income tax dropped from the bill.

The administration having by its lack of foresight and of firmness when firmness would have proven beneficial brought the cash in the Treasury down to the lowest point at which it has been since the Buchanan administration came so near to bankrupting the government is now very diligently at work stopping the leak at the spigot while that of the bunghole is going right along all the time. Here are two instances that will illustrate the attitude of statesman: the Postmaster General in glancing over the list of supplies purchased for postoffices discovered an item that deeply aroused his anger. He was thunderstruck, so to speak, when he saw that the U. S. government actually bought twine for the letter carriers to use for tying up bundles of mail. "Let them buy leather straps and use them," shouted this apostle of spigot economy as dictated and ordered that no more twine was to be bought for their use. The next great act of spigot economy also relates to the letter carriers. A lot of old cast off letter carriers' leather bags, which have been from time to time for warded to Washington by postmasters who have made requisition for new ones, have been at considerable expense patched up and as long as the supply holds out they will be sent to those postmasters who make requisitions for new ones. The letter carriers may feel thankful that they are not required to buy their own bags as well as straps.

The democrats acknowledge that they are afraid to submit their tariff bill to a democratic caucus. Those in charge of the bill say that it would certainly be cut all to pieces if it went before a caucus, and that they prefer to rely upon the power of Mr. Cleveland, whose ideas the bill fully represents, to force the bill through Congress and silence the democratic opposition thereto. Much depends upon the character of the bill, which will presumably be made public this week or next, as to whether it can be forced through Congress.

—A business man who doesn't advertise is like a man who goes fishing without any bait and dangles the naked hook in the water, trusting to luck that some fish will accidentally run up against it and be caught. Not infrequently men will enter some business, put up a little sign and then wait for some one to accidentally find that they want customers.

THE ADMINISTRATION POLICY.

Three of the prominent members of the national Democratic Executive committee recently held a conference with President Cleveland in regard to the party policy to be pursued in the future. They were unanimous in their conclusions that the overwhelming Democratic reverses, at the recent elections that the tariff reform policy of the party was not involved in these elections and that the party should not in any way be influenced by the result. It was also agreed that the whole strength of the Administration would be exerted to carry through Congress a tariff bill for revenue only to accord with the Democratic declarations in their last national platform.

The fact that a large number of manufacturing establishments, that had been running thus far through the panic, shut down indefinitely upon this news being sent through the country is certainly a significant fact that the overwhelming defeat or the party at the polls was caused by the Administration's stand taken in regard to the tariff more than all other causes combind.

The silver bill had been settled, Hoke Smith had been compelled to change his pension policy and there was no other issue before the people but the threatened change in our tariff laws. If the results of the late election didn't mean no further interference with our tariff laws, it didn't mean anything, and the people of the northern states are not in the habit of creating political revolutions just for the fun of the thing, when they think their bread and butter is at stake.

The President and the members of the committee also came to the conclusion to make the unconstitutionality of the tariff an issue in the elections of members of the next Congress. This we consider under the circumstances bad politics, and just such a course as the Republicans would be pleased to have them pursue.

No party can afford to misinterpet or disobey the latest expression of public opinion as expressed by the votes at the polls. Any party acting thus foolishly, will find itself left high and dry upon barren rocks. For the good of the people of the country we say to our democratic friends, accept the result of the elections as pointers, and call a halt for the present, on tariff reform.

WHAT OF THE TIMES.

The derangement of the business of the country, made so by the fickleness of the voter and the selfishness of the people, should be an object lesson to those who make the laws. To make business permanently prosperous and consequently people happy, it is necessary to enact economic laws of a permanent character, which is the duty of our law makers.

In a country like the United States, posessed of so many various industries it is criminal on the part of the people's representatives to enact laws that will eventually produce business panics and industrial stagnation. If we had no national laws of economics this country would soon adjust its business to just and permanent laws of its own necessities and then would come permanent progress and onwardness to a higher civilization. Why can't our representatives grasp the situation and legislate for the best interests of the people? is a question frequently asked by the honest citizen who has no office seeking desires. If the chosen representatives of the people do not soon heed the desires of the people, the latter will take the matter in their own hands and out of the control of partisan politicians and enact laws that will be of a permanent and beneficial character to the masses.

If our government would make one-half the effort to make its citizens happy that it does to make them miserable, to-day we would be a happy and prosperous people instead of being, as we are, in the slough of despair.

A good government necessitates intelligence and honesty of purpose with the courage to carry into effect these convictions of the voters at the polls. Without these requisites our elections are a comedy upon self government.

A large majority of the people vote honestly, but through long inherited party prejudice, often vote disaster to themselves. Let these honest voters discard party prejudice, inform themselves thoroughly of government affairs and then vote their convictions. Unless a beneficial change comes over the voter and the people's representatives, this Republic will disappear from this continent, and in its place confusion will reign supreme.

LEWIS AND CONNELLY.

No Money—The Cave a Myth—No Bloody Encounter—All the Writer's Vivid Imagination.

Last Friday's Keystone Gazette had a highly sensational article in regard to a supposed cave, in Rush township, this county, wherein the noted highwaymen, Lewis and Connelly, had secreted some $62,000, etc., etc. For downright falsifying of local history we believe the article in question takes the cake.

In the first place Lewis and Connelly were never possessed of that amount of money at any one time in their lives. In the second place there was no road passing near the Wolf Rocks, and no person living in that district during the lives of those robbers, consequently there could not have been any depredations committed in that locality at that time.

The bare facts in regard to those robbers are that they held up travelers, not stage coaches, along the Pittsburg and Philadelphia pike, from the foot of Jacks narrows below Lewistown to Blairsville, Indiana Co., along the National pike, from Bedford to the western side of the Alleghenies and along the road from Lewistown to Bellefonte. There was never but two of them together. At that time no stage coach with passengers climbed the hills of Sinnemahoning, as there were no roads for a stage coach to travel on, consequently the bloody encounter at that place, between the passengers and four robbers, in which Connelly was killed is simply a pigment of the vivid imagination of the Gazette.

The facts in regard to Connelly's death, and imprisonment of Lewis, are that these robbers had robbed a store near Bellefonte and was followed by the sheriff and a posse of twelve men to Groves run, on the Sinnemahoning, where Lewis and Connelly were surprised when shooting at mark. Connelly was shot through his bowels and Lewis was wounded. The two were placed in an open canoe, on a hot day in August and brought down the river to Lock Haven, some sixty miles from where they were captured. Connelly died when the party reached Lock Haven and was buried on the outside of the graveyard on the hill, on the road leading from Lock Haven to Flemington, where his grave is visible to-day. Lewis was brought to Bellefonte jail in which he died and his grave is close by the Union cemetery, if not in it.

In regard to the cave in which so much money was supposed to be secreted, that story was set afloat in 1847, but the cave which was then alleged to contain the money was located in Chestnut Ridge, in Cambria county, a few miles from Armagh. The next time we heard the story, the cave containing the treasury was located in Jack's mountain, Mifflin county. After that it was again reported to be in a cave near Bedford Springs, and now the Gazette informs us that the cave is located at Wolf Rocks, this county. Gentlemen publishers, put a bridle on your imaginations and give your readers a few facts especially when you want to state local history.

THE CLOCKS HAD ALL STOPPED.

Hannah is a flag station on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad. The circumstance that we shall relate occurred a couple of weeks ago, but the story isn't too rusty to tell. As the morning train approached the depot in question a lady supposed to be a waiting passenger, stepped out and gave the signal to halt, which was promptly obeyed by the engineer, and when the train had settled down in its accustomed way to receive passengers, the lady approached Brakeman Chaney, who had taken his place on the platform to receive politely and help the passenger to a seat, and said, "Mister will you please tell me what time it is; I am a school teacher, the clocks round here have all stopped, and I don't know when to take up school?"

While the brakeman listened to something else the pretty little school marm had to say in an undertone, Conductor Snyder pulled his brow down over his nose and impatiently beckoned Engineer Weaver to move on. The order was promptly obeyed, but enough time intervened for some fellow belonging to the crew to saturate the air completely round that depot with swear words. It is said that to this day the atmosphere is blue and smells of brimstone for a mile in every direction from Hannah flag station. —Tyrone Herald.

POSTMASTERS APPOINTED.

The following grist of postmasters for Centre and Clearfield counties were appointed Monday: John Levi, of Allport, Clearfield county; J, A. Milligan, of Glen Richey, Clearfield county; J. I. Williams, of Lemont, Centre county; J. M. Peoples, of Olanta, Clearfield county; Mrs. Fannie L. Keder, of Linden hall, Centre county; A. J. Harber, of Rose Bub, Clearfield county; George Kriner, of Stanley, Clearfield county; Geo. W. Knorr, of Troutville, Clearfield county; Burton Merrit, of Winburne, Clearfield county. It will be seen from the above that the lightning is striking pretty close to Bellefonte.

THE LIGHT QUESTION.

What It Costs Now And What It Would Cost Then.

The question of more light on the streets of Bellefonte has been agitated and re-agitated. Councilmen have discussed it pro and con every session for the past two months. At every meeting of council there is from one to three applications from various parts of the town for more light. The people cry let us have light, but don't take the trouble to find out why it is not given. To summarize.

Bellefonte is now lighted by 19 arc lights for which $8 per month was paid for a half-night's service; 55 incandescent lights, at $1.50 per month, which would make a total of $234.50 per month, or $2,814 per year. At the last council meeting a proposition from the electric light company was accepted to burn the lights all night at the price of $8.75 per arc light, and $1.75 per light for the incandescent. At this figure the present number of lamps would cost $262.50 per month or $3,150 per year, an appreciable increase in cost, with no better light. To light the town properly it would require 40 arc lights and about 20 incandescent. The company would furnish this number for $100 per year for arc lights and $21 per year, for incandescent. But the total cost of a year's lighting as above would be $4420. The lowest possible figure the light would cost a year, if it were increased any appreciable extent, would be fully $3,500. Can the borough stand this? The councilmen think not; and we are of the opinion that every fair-minded man must admit them to be right.

The borough is now six thousand dollars in debt to the treasurer, and the current expenses which must be met amount to no little sum. Of course, there are outstanding taxes, but they are hard to collect. Many are prone to find fault with the tax collector, but in this they also err. He might, possibly, collect some of these unpaid taxes soon by selling the household goods of parties owing them, but would such a course be wise? It would only be turning people out of a home of their own to put them on the borough to be an additional drain, whereas, if they are borne with until times improve, ninety per cent of same will gladly pay every cent of tax they owe. The question of more light is a question of more finance, and until the borough law makers can see the way clear to promptly pay for additional light, they are to be commended in the stand they have taken, by refusing to increase the expense for that purpose a full thousand dollars per year.

WHY HE DIDN'T RESPOND.

Charles Garner, Jr., holds a responsible position in the department of porterage at the Ward House and in his capacity attends to awaking guests in the morning at the hours which they have prescribed the night before. The attaches of the hotel are still poking fun at Charlie for the part he took in a recent occurrence during his round of duty.

Charles whisked up stairs in his usual brisk fashion to stir from slumber a guest who wished his breakfast at a certain hour. The porter gave his customary gentle tap upon the door of this guest's room and awaited the stereotyped "Yes." But no response disturbed the stilly air. Three consecutive taps a shade louder were thereupon vouchsafed; and still no response. Then Charlie realized he had found a heavy sleeper and he knocked upon the panels with considerable force. No response. Determined to break the sound sleeper's lethergy he gave the door such a pounding as would usually be sufficient to awaken an entire barracks. But the subsequent silence was as all-surrounding as the hard times.

At this point Charles ceased to be nonplused and became fearful, for he thought he had a serious case with which to deal. Was it suicide? There was only one course to pursue and with direful trepidation the porter swung himself above the door and gazed over the transom. There lay the guest silent and motionless, not in the least disturbed by the fusillade of raps at his door. He seemed to be in sound sleep, yet Charlie did not feel certain that all was well, so he hastened down stairs and reported the affair to the office, with the opinion of his own that something was radically wrong in that room.

"Which room is it?" inquired the clerk.

"No 58," said Charles.

"That's all right," replied the clerk, "The fellow in that room is deaf and dumb."—Tyrone Herald.

BEAUTIFUL BELLEFONTE.

F. Potts Green's Prize Essay Accepted by the Bellefonte Board of Trade.

Bellefonte, beautiful Bellefonte—the home of governors, geographically located in the centre of the state of Pennsylvania, seven hundred and thirty-two feet above sea level and the county seat of Centre county, was laid out in 1795 and incorporated in 1805 and now contains a population of about five thousand inhabitants. The beautiful fountain ("Belle Fonte") from which it takes its name rises in the very heart of the town and throwing off 14,600 gallons of clear, cold, sparkling water a minute without varation either in temperature or quantity during any part of the year, has a capacity sufficient for supplying a city of fifty thousand people.

Bellefonte is noted for its delightful atmosphere, romantic scenery, lovely drives and the refinement and culture of its inhabitants. It is surrounded by hills that insure it against cyclones, has ten churches, a free library, large academy, the best system of graded public schools, five weekly newspapers and two dailies; these with its pure water, good drainage, electric light, gas and steam heating plants free postal delivery and being within twelves miles of the Pennsylvania State College to which three trains run daily, make it the ideal home of the literary man the retired gentleman, or those who desire to give their children a thorough technical and practical education. Lying as it does in the midst of a rich agricultural region underlaid with the finest quality of limestone in the world and with immense deposits of hematite and fossil ores, with splendid water power and being connected with all the large cities by competitive lines of railroad, the Penna., N. Y. Central and Reading, it should become the Mecca of manufacturers.

There are two coke furnaces with a capacity of one hundred tons each daily and one charcoal furnace making the highest grade of that kind of iron, the whole of which product should be used here. There are also a complete sixteen pot window glass factory large nail works, foundry and machine shops, two planing mills, three roller flouring mills, scale works, chain works, boiler works and three coach factories, while its kilns for the manufacutre of lime and ground limestone are the most extensive in the country and the quality unsurpassed by any in the world. The water power in the vicinity is extensive and much of it waiting to be utilized. The soft coal and coke region lies within eighteen miles and with the competing lines of railroad can be laid down at a very low rate of freight.

As a location for the manufacturer of all articles into which iron, lime, coal and sand enter it has no superior on the continent.

If you are in business and desire a better location, or if you have anything worth manufacturing and wish to start in the place best calculated fo insure a paying business, you are cordially invited to correspond with Mr. James Harris, President, or Clement Dale, Esq., Secretary of the Bellefonte Board of Trade.

A NUPTIAL MASS CELEBRATED.

The following taken from Tuesday's Tyrone Herald will be of interest to many Bellefonte people:

Nuptial mass was celebrated at St. Matthew's Catholic chapel at 8 o'clock this morning by Rev. Father D. J. Gallagher, at which hour the holy vows of matrimony were taken by Andrew A. Kolbenschlag, of Altoona, and Miss Joanna C. Schell, of Tyrone.

There was a large number present at the ceremony. After its completion a reception was tendered at the home of the bride on North Pennsylvania avenue, and a sumptuous wedding dinner was an important and enjoyable feature of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Kolbenschlag will go to Altoona where to-morrow they will be the honored guests at a reception to be given them at the home of the groom's parents.

Mr. Kolbenschlag is a model young man who has every qualification for the duties and responsibilities which he has assumed. He is a machinist in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company at Altoona and is a steady man. His bride is one of Tyrone's fairest and most amiable young ladies who has always been popular in her large circle of friends here and she will adorn the home which she now enters as wife. Mr. and Mrs. Kolbenschlag will reside permanently in Altoona.

—On Thursday, the 30th inst., in the Trinity Presbyterian church at Berwyn, Pa., there will occur the marriage of Mr. John William Reavey and Miss Margaret Alexander Landis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Landis. The prospective bride has many friends here.

IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

A Sensational Murder Trial Finally Brought to an End.

PITTSBURG, Pa., November 16.—James Newton Hill, charged with the murder of Mrs. Rotzler in the Allegheny park last March, was found guilty of murder in the first degree.

The trial was one of the most sensational in the history of Allegheny county. On the night of March 7, at 10.25, the residents and pedestrians in the vicinity of East park, Allegheny City, were startled by the report of two pistol shots. Lieutenant Thornton, of the Allegheny police force, who was in the neighborhood at the time, ran towards the spot from which the shots had come. On his arrival he found Mrs. Rosa Rotzler lying on the ground with two bullet wounds in her head and her throat cut from ear to ear. On top of her lay the prostrate form of Hill. Mrs. Rotzler died immediately. Hill was taken to a hospital where it was thought he would die before morning, his throat being cut from ear to ear. A tube was inserted and he lived to stand trial for the murder of Mrs. Rotzler.

Mrs. Rotzler's husband was a metallurgical engineer in the employ of the Apollo iron works. He owned fast horses and Hill was employed as a sort of trainer. He frequently took Rotzler out driving The people in Apollo talked so much about Hill's actions with Mrs. Rotzler that in November, 1892, Mr. Rotzler dispensed with Hill's services. A month later Rotzler died. Hill renewed his friendship with Mrs. Rotzler. He afterwards tried to borrow money from her. Many letters were exchanged between the two. On the night of the murder Hill and Mrs. Rotzler were in the park together. Later they were found as above stated. Hill has all along protested that an unknown man killed Mrs Rotzler and had attempted to take his life. The evidence was all circumstantial, but so strongly against Hill that he was found guilty of murder in the first degree.

A motion for a new trial will be made by Hill's counsel.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS ENROUTE.

DENVER, Nov. 16.—General McCook, Commander of the Department of Colorado, has ordered all troops under his command to proceed to the scene of trouble on the Mexican border.

These consists of four troops of cavalry.

"In all events," said General McCook, "they will be instructed to Guard American interests and prevent any violation of the neutrality laws. As to the extent of the trouble, I have received a dispatch from Colonel Bliss, assistant adjutant general of the degartment of Colorado, who is at Fort Bayard, who states that over 100 Mexican revolutionists, have taken Palomas, and they are taking horses and arms from American citizens. Aid has been asked by these Americans to protect their interests on this side of the line."

BURNED TO DEATH.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., November 16.—A passenger train on the Eastern Alabama railroad was derailed and wrecked near Lafayette this morning. The coaches caught fire and Thomas Driver, a passenger was burned up in the smoking car, The other passengers were badly injured. Among the injured are; J. R. Dowdell, arm and jaw broken; E. J. Mitchell, skull fractured; J. F. Mitchell, badly cut about face and chest; W. C. Hunter, internal injuries; J. P. O'Brien, arm broken; a child of Mrs. Roberts, shoulder broken. Several other passengers were slightly bruised. All the wounded people are residents of Alabama.

TROUBLE EXPECTED IN HONOLULU.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Private letters received here from Honolulu by the last mail indicate that trouble was expected there. One written by a leading merchant declared that if the queen was restored she would be a dead woman in twenty-four hours. It further says that Hawaii would have no monarchy; that tho supporters of the provisional government would fight and face death, if need be, rather than submit to the restoration of the monarchy. Another letter is of a like spirited tenor. The recipient of these letters, who is thoroughly informed regarding Hawaiian affairs and disposed to take a conservative view of things, says that they unquestionably reflect public sentiment at Honolulu.

AN UNUSUAL COINCIDENCE.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., November 17.—Mr. George Hoffer's sudden death here yesterday marks a peculiar and unusual coincidence. Until recently he conducted the Girard house, on Allegheny street. After him Dorsey Silknitter had charge of the same place, and George Conrad at the same time was proprietor of the Jackson house, an adjoining structure. Recently Mr. Silknitter died and his friend Conrad soon followed him to the grave. Yesterday Mr. Hoffer joined his old companions. In each case death was sudden and came with but a moment's warning. The men were all upwards of 70 years of age.

BLIZZARD IN MANITOBA.

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.—W. W. Ogilvie, the Canadian flour king, has received despatches from Manitoba, to-day, that a blizzard and heavy snow storm is raging there. It has lasted a day and a night. This is the second snow storm of the season. Owing to the severity of the weather four of Ogilvie's steamers are tied up at White Fish bay, unable to move. Ogilvie says that crop deliveries are turning out fine, the quality being very good. Speaking of the present dullness of the grain market, he says he is selling flour in Europe at less than half the price that he was getting six years ago.

SENSATIONAL ROBBERY.

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 17,—A sensational burglary was committed here this afternoon at the residence of Walter Kendig, tobacco dealer. When his wife returned home at 4 o'clock she found the maid, Mrs. Ella Harnish, lying on the kitchen floor, apparently unconscious, with a butcher knife and a bottle of chloroform by her side. After being attended by a physician, she told a queer tale about a rough stranger entering the kitchen and threatening to cut off her hair if she screamed. He then robbed her of $4 taking it from her bed room, and, upon returning to the kitchen, he pulled a bottle from his pocket, knocked her down and she remembered no more. Mrs. Kendig had $150 in gold and notes taken from her room.

The police do not credit the woman's story. Ther is evidence to show that no one entered the house after Mrs. Kendig left it, and there was no smell of chloroform about. She is now under police surveillance.

NOT THROWING AWAY MONEY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The chamber of commerce collected a fund last April of $27,000 to entertain the columbian visitors not forgetting the duke of Veragua. Other distinguished foreigners were also entertained by the chamber, but even after all the festivities there remained $9,000 of the fund, and Secretary George Wilson returned this to the donors yesterday. When the duke of Veragua left this country, on his return home, he said he was hard up and that his lands in Andalusia had been plastered by a vulgar mortgage in his absence.

"Why didn't George Wilson send the $9,000 to Veragua?" asked a member of the chamber yesterday, and he got for a reply that since the fund was raised Americans were not as flush as they were and had to look out for themselves.

SOLD $4,000,000 WORTH OF BONDS.

PHILADELPHIA, November 17.—The Peennsylvania railroad company has recently sold through Speyer & Co. to Kuhn & Lohbac $4,000,000 one half per cent bonds of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad. The sale is the final transaction in the disposition of several million of these securities, 3,000,000 having previously been sold to Speyer and company. The bonds are part of an old issue which the Pennsylvania railroad accepted from the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis company in reimbursement for money advanced, and it was not until this time that the Pennsylvania Railroad company felt the necessity of realizing on them.

A SHOCKING SUICIDE.

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 17.—Senor Don Carles Diaz, Spanish consul at this port, committed suicide early this morning by jumping from the third-story window of his home on Eutaw street. His body was perfectly nude and passersby saw him clinging to the casement before the fatal leap, but were powerless to prevent it. He died at the Maryland General hospital within half an hour.

Senor Diaz had been in the Spanish consular service for 22 years, coming here two years ago after a service of 12 years at Tunia, Africa. He leave a wife, one son and daughter. Insanity is supposed to be the cause of the suicide. The consul was sent on a lengthy European tour by his friends some months ago, after showing signs of mental trouble. He returned lately, apparently restored to health.

NEW RAILROAD OPENED.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 17.—The new line known as the Wilesbarre and Eastern railroad, recently completed, running from here to New York via Stroudsburg, Pa., began hauling their first coal over the road to-day. They are, however, extremely cautious at a few points near the Pocono mountains, where the track has caved in several times owing to a quicksand bottom. This trouble though will be remedied within a week or so. A passenger and freight depot are now being erected here on the west bank of the Susquehanna river and will be completed by next spring. No passenger trains will run over the road until April next.

MORE FOURTH CLASS POSTMASTERS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The total number of fourth class postmasters appointed to-day was 40, of which 16 were to fill vacancies caused by resignations and death. Among the appointments were the following: Pennsylvania—Dayton, R. M. Marshall; Frankfort Springs, W. C. Morgan; Hammill, William S. Neff; Linfield, T. B. Evans; Marshview, D. H. Crimmins; Stevens' Point, W. B. Stevens.

REJOICING AT GALLITZIN.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Nov. 17.—There is great rejoicing at Gallitzin, Cambria county, to day, owing to the resumption of operations in the large coal and coke works of Taylor & McCoy. On July 1st a proposed 10 per cent. cut in wages caused a strike among the miners. Since that time there has been much privation and suffering in the town. The six hundred men employed finally submitted to the terms of the management.

ROBBED OF $100,000.

How the Minister Family Was Victimized By a Clever Swindler.

HAZELTON, Pa., Nov. 17.—The prolific Minister family, the American branch of which originiated in New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania, and which is now scattered all over the country, has been the victim of a clever swindler. The victims number in all 4.812, and they have contributed from $20 to $300 each to the alleged swindler's pocket.

The founder of the family in this country was Burkhard Minister, and two or three years ago the story was widely published that his heirs were going to bring suit of ouster against the Lehigh Valley Coal and Navigation Company. They were also to sue for a trifle of $20,000,000 or so damages.

It is now said that this story was set afloat by one Frank L. Bender of Chicago who shortly afterward advertised far and near for representatives of the Minister family. It is not known how many communicated with him, though it is known that 4,812 who did are sorry. He sent each correspondent a circular setting forth in glowing terms the fortune that was waiting for him. Incidentally an assessment of $20 was levied on each one who registered as a party to the prospective suit against the Coal and Navigation Company. Other assessments followed, until some members of the family paid out as much as $300 each.

It was not until very recently that the Ministers lost confidence in Bender and began to believe him a fraud. It is said he secured more than $100,000 in all, and will be prosecuted.

PAPA AND MA AND THE BABIES.

WASHINGTON, November 17.—A pleasant domestic scene that attracted much attention was witnessed from the treasury department about 3 o'clock this afternoon. The president and his family were in the capacious grounds south of the executive mansion gathering autumn leaves. Mr. Cleveland walked with Mrs. Cleveland, the nurse carried the baby, Esther, and little Ruth gambolled about the lawn picking up leaves and bringing them to her mother. Mr. Cleveland every now and then picked up some of the prettiest leaves himself and presented them to his wife. When all were supplied they returned to the house. Since the return of the president's family from Woodley the gates of the grounds south of the mansion have been kept for the most part locked, thus causing comparative privacy. At other times the grounds had been used as a short cut from the state and navy department to Pennsylvania avenue by the government clerks.

FORGED ITALIAN BANK NOTES.

ROME, Nov. 17.—Two Peasants who returned recently from the United States were arrested in Andretta, a province of Avelinno this week for offering forged Italian kank notes. They say that they obtained these notes in return for dollars at an exchange office in James street, New York city. As similar cases have been reported with increasing frequency lately, the government has given orders for special measures to find the source of the forged notes.

TERSE TELEGTAMS.

There was no change in the price of silver yesterday in London, the price remaining at 32 1-16 pence.

The Cherokee commission has been dissolved owing to the exhaustion of the appropriation for its work.

The entire business portion of Brooklyn, Dane county, Wisconsin, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. Loss $75,000: small insurance.

While William Shiff, a well-to-do farmer living north of Piqua, O., was burning brush yesterday his clothing took fire. He was fatally burned.

A woman claiming to be a relation of Queen Victoria has been haunting the White House recently, claiming she wants to see Mr. Cleveland.

A meeting will be held next week of Youngstown manufacturers, merchants and business men for the purpose of organizing a board of trade.

Charles Poole, an employe of the National Card Company, has been brought from London charged with the embezzlement of $800 of the company's money.

A crank who has been writing threatening letters to Gov. Mathews of Indiana and President Cleveland tried to buy a pistol and was arrested and locked up yesterday at Logansport, Ind.

The premier of Ontario and his cabinet have resolved to amend the insurance act next session so it will be a penal offense for American insurance agents to solicit business in that province without registering and paying a license.

HUNTINGDON REFORMATORY.

Murderous Prisoners Foiled—Narrow Escape From Bodily Injury.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., November 18.—It just transpires that General Superintendent T. B. Patton, of the industrial reformatory, is alive to-day because of the timely discovery of a well laid plan among three unruly prisoners to take his life.

Owing to his having received a certain number of demerit tickets for violation of the rules of the institution, one of the inmates was likely to be transferred to a lower grade. With the thought of a longer term of imprisonment before him, and blaming his misfortune on the superintendent's strictness in discipline, he enlisted the sympathy of two other inmates and the three decided to take Mr. Patton's life.

The assassination was to occur in the chapel. As is his custom at the conclusion of every service, Mr. Patton walks in advance of the prisoners to the visitors' entrance and there inspects their marching. Contemplating arming themselves with stones and two knives, the insubordinates were to attack the superintendent as he stood there.

But the fortunate discovery of the plot the night before—a few nights ago—has, perhaps, saved the official's life. Guards overheard the prisoners making their plans and reported the matter to Mr. Patton. The latter proceeded at once to the cells occupied by the three young men, made a personal examination and sure enough found a brick and two thoroughly ground, keen edged knives secreted within them. A lot of correspondence that had been exchanged between the prisoners was also found, and through it was revealed the manner in which the deed was to be committed.

David R. Patton, son of the general superintendent, was perched on a thirty foot electric light pole the other day, and found it necessary to slack a wire in order to make some repairs. While the loosened wire was on the ground a third grade inmate almost severed it with the point of a shovel, and when young Mr. Patton attempted to again tighten it, the wire seperated and he was almost precipitated to the ground. Grasping two other wires and clinging there for a moment is all that saved him from sustaining severe bodily injuries

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW.

New York, November 18, 1893.

In the absence of important visible factors Wall Street is on the lookout for new elements affecting prices. The "bulls" have found some support, during the week, in the improving earnings of the railroads, the symptoms of a steady recovery in business, the growing plethora of money, and the prospect of an early completion of the plans for reconstructing the finances of some of the great bankrupt railroads. The "bears" are availing themselves of the lull in speculation for forcing a reaction from the recent advance in prices; but with only moderate success, their great obstacle being the facility for carrying stocks that is afforded by the abundancy of money.

For the moment, however, the conditions of chief interest centre at Washington. Among these are the prospects of tariff legislation and of measures relating to the currency. So far as respects the former, broad indications are now forthcoming as to the general scope of the changes of duties contemplated by the Committee on Ways and Means; and they may be regarded as being of a distinctly assuring character. When the Committee reports, the public verdict is likely to be that the changes are much less radical than has been generally anticipated. Considering that the existing duties upon very large amounts of imported goods exceed the strict requirements of protection, and that most industries will receive important advantages from putting their raw materials upon the free list, it may be conceded that the net result to the manufacturer from the proposed changes of duty will be much less serious than has generally been expected. And when to this fact is added the further one, that already the prices of raw material are declining and that wages have fallen and are likely to do so still more generally during the winter, we have a distinct basis for a hope that the new light thus thrown upon the situation may soon lead to more or less resumption of work among our now stagnant industries.

Wall street naturally attaches a special importance to the matter of currency legislation. It is generally conceded that, as the suspension of silver purchases involves a large stoppage of new supplies of money there is an imperative necessity for providing without delay some other form of circulation to fill the gap. There is no second opinion. that the only dependence for that supply must be entirely upon bank notes. But it is not clear, in the light of past experience, how we can safely trust to the national banking system for any such increase of its issues as the new circumstances would require. The system of bond guarantee has compelled a contraction of the issues to less than half their former volume, and the oft-repeated suggestion of authorizing the banks to put out notes up to the par value of the bonds is an inducement altogether too small to bring out any appreciable increase in this form of circulation. If it be suggested that the system of bond guarantee be enlarged or some more elastic form of protection, the proposal encounters the well-nigh conclusive objection that the powerful opinions and prejudices against such a radical change of the national system would in all probability be found to defeat that resort for relief. Under these circumstances, the proposal to permit the issue of notes by the State banks may receive a more or less serious consideration at the hands of Congress. Unquestionably, the State banks, with their $300,000,000 of capital, constitute a source of note currency of some importance. The thing to be determined, however, before utilizing that resort, is whether the notes to be thence supplied could be secured in such a way as to adequately protect the noteholders and insure their circulating always at par. That is really the central question in this problem, and Wall Street seems disposed to wait for what Congress has to propose on this point before determining its verdict upon the shbject of State bank notes.

The Stock Market is in a waiting attitude. For the present the bears have gained an ascendency which they seem disinclined to relinquish. The tendency towards lower prices has met with no resistance from large holders; partly because some are willing to see lower prices, and partly because others are unprepared for any aggressive movement upwards. Wall Street has not yet entirely lost the pessimism which the late panic created in the business world. Commerce and industry are reviving, however, but the improvement thus far is perhaps greater in tone than in volume. Moreover, the close of the year is approaching, previous to which there is always a period of stock taking and introspection that is unfavorable to the consideration of new enterprises. In the mercantile world the usual inactivity belonging to November and December is being aggravated by the late panic, and recovery is delayed by an exaggerated fear of tariff revision.

The trade balance of October was largely in our favor, exports have exceeded imports by $36,000,000. In November thus far, there has been a similar preponderance of exports. Under ordinary circumstances we ought therefore to be importing gold freely, as was expected a few weeks ago; but only small arrivals of specie have been reported, and the exchange market is still adverse to any imports of consequence. From our own standpoint, however, the situation is steadily improving. If the after-effects of panic are still visible in numerous failures, small volume of business, etc., it must be remembered that all these drawbacks have been discounted, and that conditions are daily mending. Prices of commodities are universally low, and supplies are small; conditions which cannot last without laying the best sort of foundations for a general revival of enterprise. This revival will come. It is inevitable. It may be delayed a few weeks or months, and the longer it is delayed the more certain will be its permanence. Wall street has a fashion of anticipating such movements often long in advance of their occurrence; and we shall be surprised if our leading financiers and operators show themselves less capable than usual in reading the future.

HENRY CLEWS.

BATTLE WITH TRAMPS.

CANTON, O., Nov. 19.—At Stark siding, two miles east of this city, tramps have been in the habit of boarding passenger trains when they stop for water and stealing valuables from sleeping passengers. Detective Stacey, of the Pennsylvania company, has been at work on the case, and last evening saw four men board the train and then heard stones going through the windows. Stacey caught one of the stone throwers. Another hit him with a clinker, gashing his head.

Stacey came to Canton, and, securing a squad of police, returned to the scene and surrounded the tramps' camp-fire along the track. Twenty tramps were around the fire and ran in all directions. They were ordered to halt, and, failing to do so, the officers commenced shooting. The tramps returned to the fire One tramp, giving the name of Charles F. Kennedy, of Pittsburg, was shot in the thigh. Eleven others were arrested and brought to Trenton jail. An effort will be made to capture the rest of the gang.

GAGGED AND ROBBED.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 19.—Last night about 10 o'clock Mrs. Mary Williams, who lives near Enon Valley, was startled by a knock at her back door. She opened the door and was confronted by three masked men, who pointed revolvers at her head and demanded to know where she kept her money. She refused to tell, whereupon they bound and gagged her, at the same time making threats of torture. The old lady finally pointed to where her money was hidden and the robbers secured over $200 in gold. They then tied a gag in her mouth and left. She was unable to free herself, and, when discovered this morning, was almost dead.

HEAD-ON COLLISION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—There was a head-on collision shortly before 1 o'clock this morning between east and west bound freight trains on the Pennsylvania railroad at the South Broad street coal chutes, Newark. David Green, of Philadelphia, engineer of one of the trains, was instantly killed. The engineer of the other train and two firemen were severely injured and taken to hospitals. Both engines were demolished and three freight cars were wrecked. The last train west from this city was stalled and through trains could not pass until early this morning.

—The Renovo base ball club claims to have made money during the past season. If it did, it is about the only club in the River League that did.

—The new house of Mr. Thomas Wilson, who works at Morris' limestone quarries, and which is being erected near the toll gate, is rapidly nearing completion.

—It is probable that the entire division of the National Guard will encamp at Gettysburg next summer. Adjutant General Greeland looked over the field Thursday to select a site for the camp.

—The Bellefonte Academy foot ball team is diligently practicing that they may be able to down the Philipsburg team on Thanksgiving day. The game will be played in the glass works meadow and should be well patronized.

—A number of the young people around Bellefonte have arranged to give a ball on Thanksgiving evening, Thursday, November 30th, in the large hall, third floor of the Bush Arcade. Large posters around town give full particulars.

—Miss Martha Cummins, of Milroy, Mifflin county, who was reported as having been lost while on a visit to Chicago, returned home on Saturday. She says she had intended going further west to visit friends, but was taken sick and was nursed by a lady friend.

—The "patent right" business is becoming a nuisance. Not only does a certain paper in this town claim patent rights on certain individuals, but it seems to have a right, patent to all, on the word "seen," as it says "never seen," "the scribes seen," etc. Comment unnecessary.

—Notwithstanding the scarcity of game, hunting parties continue to make pilgrimages to the wooded districts in the hope that they may be the lucky ones. On Thursday morning a party of four men with two-horse teams, a full line of camp equippage and provender enough to last a month passed through Bellefonte, evidently on their way to the green woods.

—The funeral of Mr. John Rankin occurred Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The floral offerings were profuse and exceedingly fine. The token from the Christian Endeavor society, of which Mr. Rankin was a prominent member, was a handsome lyre, from the famous greenhouse of Harry Chappel, Williamsport. Rev. Dr. Laurie, D. D., conducted the funeral services and the pallbearers were Oscar Wetzell, Malcolm Laurie, James Barnhart, Cheney Hicklen, John Walker and Charles Rhone.

—On the 4.30 afternoon train Thursday policeman William Garis brought to Bellefonte the "famous" Andy Timms, who escaped from the Centre county jail about two years ago, or thereabouts, and for whose capture and return a reward of twenty-five dollars was offered. Timms was captured somewhere in Clearfield county. We understand that Sheriff Ishler also has knowledge of the whereabouts of at least some of those who broke jail recently, and the probability is they will be nabbed in the near future.

MARRIED.

We learn from the Renovo Record that Mr. James B. Kirk and Miss Laura M Heyner were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony on Monday evening at 9 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. William Heyner, on Twelfth street. The ceremony was performed by the groom's father, Rev. E. I. Kirk, in the presence of the family. The groom is now acting as city editor of the North Towanda News, in New York state, a newspaper owned by M. J. Dillon, formerly of this place, and is a much respected young gentleman, while his bride is in every way qualified to fill her new duties as wife and helpmate. The happy couple departed the same night for North Towanda, N. Y., where they will reside in the future.

Mr. Kirk is a nephew of Dr. Kirk, in this place.

AN EGG FOR A STAMP.

A little child walked into the postoffice at Mazeppa with an egg in its hand. It lisped to the mail dispenser that it wanted a stamp and would give the egg in payment. This led to an investigation, and the child's mother, Mrs. C. E. Edwards, was found to be in a destitute condition. She had no money and had sent the child with the egg to the postoffice for a stamp intending to notify Mount Carmel friends of her want. The husband is missing from home.

HE ONLY CHANGED THE ADDRESS.

A man dropped into a newspaper office not a thousand miles from Tyrone one day recently, and informed the bookkeeper to stop the paper which was being sent to a man who, he said, was dead. The bookkeeper looked up the name and, finding that the dead subscriber was in arrears three years, changed the postoffice on the mailing list to H—l, and sent the paper right along.

A LIZZARD IN HIS STOMACH.

DUNBAR, Pa., Nov. 1.—Last evening Dr. Stone was summoned to attend Julius Fraley, a coke worker, who was suffering terrible with symptons of poison. The physician worked several hours without giving relief and finally a powerful emetic was administered. Fraley ejected from his stomach a lizard three and a half inches in length. His pain ceased at once Fraley cannot account for the presence of the lizard in his stomach.

TALKING OF COMPROMISE.

PITTSBURGH, November 16.—The second national convention for 1893 of the representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers assembled in Turner hall in extraordinary session at 10 o'clock this morning. About 125 delegates answered to their names and presented credentials. President Garland delivered a long address outlining the critical condition that exists throughout the country generally and more particularly in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, where the wage question has assumed a serious phase. He laid special stress on the policy now being pursued by the iron and steel manufacturers in enforcing reductions in the boiling and finishing scales. In concluding his speech President Garland asked the delegates to use their best judgment in the revision of the wage scale.

Reports were then read giving the condition of affairs in different parts of the country. The districts represented are Pittsburg, Mahoning and Shenango valleys, Wheeling, Indiana and Alabama. Work on the revision of the wage scale began at this afternoon's session. There is talk of a compromise on the basis of $5.75 per ton for puddling.

NOVEMBER DAYS.

November is a month of rainy, disagreeable days. The damp, cold air penetrates everywhere and chills the blood, laying the system open to the danger of colds, pneumonia and kindred complaints. There is but one remedy that stimulates the system and fortifies it against such attacks, and that is whiskey. Not such a whiskey as is generally palmed off on the public, but a whiskey of known purity and quality. Such a whiskey is Klein's Silver Age, Duquesne or Bear Creek Rye. These whiskies have been before the public for many years and find favor wherever purity is required. Physicians prescribe them; hospitals use them, and every reputable dealer sells them.

These goods are for sale by S. Shloss, Williamsport, at regular prices.

The best builders use only the best materials—lumber, brick, lime, cement, sand—whatever goes into the construction of a building; they employ only the best workmen and pay the best wages; they get better prices for their work than their less careful competitors, and always get the best contracts; they paint their work with

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Popularity Of Moire Silks: Furs: Circular Caps: Hosery: Trimmings: Gloves.

Black moire antique or colored moires take high rank among new silks, as costumes or accessories, the former's wide-spreading waves being diversified by large and small self colored satin dots; or in the evening tints, a contrasting floral figure is introduced with fine effect. For revers, girdles, or sleeve cuffs, any kind of moire is in order and while by no means displacing velvet, it affords a change. Changeable silks are still prominent, but very small colored figures on black predominate, and Bayadere stipes in several bright hues will combine advantageously with sombre colors. Brocades seem indispensable and two different patterns may now be used in a costume; the skirt of white brocade and a long, coat bodice of any color. Very delicate white designs on black indicate that the black and white "craze" still exists, white fans edged with black, and black gloves stitched in white, are however its latest illustration.

EVERYBODY WILL WEAR FUR

this season, even the babies' dainty cloaks or hats are edged with beaver, and street, house, or evening dresses bear testimony to the extreme popularity of Alaska sable, mink, Astrakhan, Persian lamb, or black lynx; ordinarily in inch-wide borderings. Alaska real skin box coats, with round collar at the back and broad revers extending to the lower edge, display the simply elegance of untrimmed seal, and "Reefers" having a round collar and revers in one piece, are equally attractive; both these handsome styles being shown in Hudson Bay otter, seal, Persian lamb or mink Circular capes varying from twenty to forty-six inches in length, with extra fullness at the back, possess such manifest advantages in these days of immense sleeves, that extreme favor may be predicted for them, not however to the exclusion of closely-fitting styles.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE

fur capes, very similar in shape to those of velvet or cloth are shown in all leading furs, but the most attractive triple cape of the season, combining lightness and warmth is of Sicilienne, lined with Siberian squirrel; each cape trimmed with Alaska sable, has been introduced by C. C. Shayne, whose name alone is a sufficient guarantee for elegant style or material; and a noteworthy fact may be here mentioned, that the Shayne exhibit of fine furs at the Chicago World's Fair took seven of the highest prizes above all competitors. Small fur shoulder capes are a stylish accessory and may be worn over an outdoor garment or house dress as occasion requires. Neck boas remain about the same, but the ordinary muff is a trifle larger.

BLACK HOSIERY.

meets the requirements of such a large class, that it continues in good demand, very bright colors however are noticeable in Clan plaids and other styles, intended for dress occasions. Five colored clocks in three different hues, or colored Vandyke points above a "black boot" are very stylish, a decided tendency existing towards three contrasting tints in combination. Cross stripes are again seen and evening hosiery is in all fashionable pale shades, of one color throughout, or "colored boots" with contrasting tops, or broad, shaded lengthwise stripes, small dots on black, or an open work black stripe on light shades, are all effective tyles.

SILK OR BEADED.

passementerie, velvet, moire, lace or braid are the most fashionable trimmings at present, and a recent idea is open black passementeric over colored satin bands, on wool round wasts, in just the same style that white lace was used on light fabrics during the summer. In gloves, colors are more pronounced than ever; crimson, purple, green or very bright tan are leading shades and buttons have lost nothing in size.

IN OTHER COUNTIES.

Last Saturday night thieves forced an entrance into the novelty store of C. P. Brackbill at Mt. Pleasant and secured about $200 worth of goods, jewelry, revolvers, tobacco, cigars, etc. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

As No. 9, going east, was rushing through Millwood yesterday morning, it struck George Blythe, a Pennsylvania railroad carpenter who was gathering coal along the track, hurling him for a considerable distance. When picked up he was found to have sustained serious and probably fatal injuries.

The name of the fireman who was injured at Manor Monday forenoon is Zachariah Gordon. Mr. Gordon was firing on the Irwin coal train and got off his engine to make a coupling. By some means his left leg was caught and the small bone broken in two places. The large tendon was also torn loose from the bone.

Chief Burgess Black has made the following appointment of members for the local board of health for Huntingdon; Dr. A. B. Brumbaugh, for five years; George B. Orlady, Esq., four years; D. Y. Swayne, three years; J. R. Simpson, Esq., two years; B. F. Isenberg, one year. These gentlemen, we learn, are preparing plans for organization and effective work.

DEATH OF JAMES EMERICK.

James C. Emerick, son of John Emerick a merchant at Wolf's Store, died on Wednesday of consumption and was buried on Saturday. Mr. Emerick was only about 30 years of age. He was the finest penman in Centre county. Years ago he was professor of penmanship in a business college at Oswego, N. Y., and later was private secretary and stenographer for some railroad magnate in New York City. This position he held until about one year ago when he was forced to resign on account of failing health. He returned to his father's home in Brush Valley, where he has been ever since, gradually but surely traveling the last journey of life. His death is the ending of the life of a brilliant young man; he will be mourned, not only by a father, mother, two brothers and two sisters, but by a host of friends which he had won by his kind and genial disposition.

The best and only Double Extract Sarsaparilla is Manners. It cures. Take no other. 50 cents.

STILL FOR CENTRE.

The two Centre county farmer boys; David L. Krebs and Cyrus Gordon, seem to have leased the judicial bench of Clearfield county for 20 years. The former became president judge in 1883, and leaves the field, as farmers would say, on the first of January next, when the latter will take his seat on the bench for ten years more. This looks like a discrimination against the Clearfield wing of the legal profession, but then when we come to reflect over the historical facts in the case, Centre county is the mother of most people residing on both sides of the Moshannon creek. "Mother Centre" (we have often written it in the past thirty-three years) is prolific in furnishing her neighbor with judges, and if the last elect, Mr. Gordon, deports himself as well as his predecessors the public will not complain very much.—Clearfield Republican.

USE DANA'S SARSAPARILLA, ITS "THE KIND THAT CURES."

FAVORS SHORTER SCHOOL HOURS.

Dr. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction, favors shorter hours in schools, especially in the lower grades. He says: "I should think that five hours a day is long enough for pupils in the lower grades. It is the chief duty of the child to grow, and if the amount of work prescribed by the course robs it of the needed hours of sleep the teacher should diminish the work regardless of the danger of not promoting all her pupils to the next grade according to the expectation of their parents. The schools should be small enough for the teacher to study the needs of each pupil. The welfare of the child is of more consequence than any course of study or any system of grading. Some American cities have reduced the school day to five hours in order to prevent such school diseases as myopia and the prostration of the nervous system."

WASN'T CATCHING.

A school ma'am in Spring township who, having an inordinate dread of contagious disease, sent a little girl home because her mother was sick and showed symptoms of something alarming. The next day the little girl presented herself at school, with her finger in her mouth and her little bonnet swinging by the string, she timidly said: "We got a new baby at our house, but mamma told me to tell you it isn't catching." The teacher blushed slightly and said she was glad and told the pupil to take her seat.

GOOD CAUSE FOR FAINTING.

The other day a very modest and absent minded young lady who lives on Bishop street, went to the mill for some flour. She gave the clerk what she thought was a neatly folded and ironed pillow slip. The clerk emptied one scoup of flour and it went through to the floor. Just then a horrifying discovery was made that what had been taken for a dainty little sack had two outlets, and each outlet was trimmed with embroidery. The clerk fainted, and he has stayed fainted ever since.

—George Shilling last Saturday loaded a large smokestack at the Maitland Boiler works intending to haul the same to Milesburg. When just in front of this office the coupling in his wagon broke and the front carriage was pulled out leaving the stack down on the street. But George was equal to the emergency, and in fifteen minutes, with the help of a number of bystanders, the stack was raised, the wagon re-coupled and the journey continued.

—A stove manufactory has been started up-town (on paper) and numberless "self-feeders" are already in operation.

WILL KEEP THEM HOT.

What the Board of Trade is Doing and Will Do.

The Bellefonte board of trade through its officers has been keeping the telegraph wires between Bellefonte and Watsontown hot for several days trying to induce Mr. Morgan, of the Watsontown car works to visit Bellefonte and observe what they have to offer. Several citizens have announced their willingness to donate land for the works if they will only move to Bellefonte, and the newspapers up there are making a big fuss about what they claim are the "superior advantages" of Bellefonte over Williamsport. Of course we admire the spirit, but our Bellefonte neighbors are a trifle out of order. The Watsontown car works people are not asking for proposals from those who would like to have them as neighbors. They want to come to Williamsport, which they know is the best place in the state for them to locate, and it is more than likely that we will have them with us in a short time.—Williamsport Republican.

Our Lycoming neighbors are evidently getting worried lest the car works plum may slip their grasp. And just here we will say that Bellefonte means business. It wants the Watsontown car works and it intends to get them, too, if it is at all possible, even if all the wires between here and Watsontown get red hot or burn out. The business interests of this beautiful mountain town have lain dormant too long. We are now awake and alive to the necessity of doing some push work, and push it is going to be. No stopping until all the furnaces in and around Bellefonte, our nail works, glass works, car works and other industries in full blast, and we have captured the Watsontown car works and a dozen or so other equally as good manufacturing establishments. Williamsport has had the brag and bluster all to itself in the past, but in the future, if it desires to keep pace with Bellefonte it will be compelled to leave off blowing and saw wood.

THE DAZZLER.

A good sized audience was present in Garman's opera house Friday night to witness the performance of Cosgrove and Grant's comedians in The Dazzler. It is safe to say that all present were fully satisfied as there is more laugh and fun in one minute with the Dazzler than a whole evening with many of the so-called farce-comedies. The performers are all artists and fill their part in the cast to perfection. The company deserves big houses wherever they go.

The Change of Life.

Women nearing this critical period require strength, health, and cheerful spirits.

The sole aim of this time should be to keep well.

The invaluable aid always is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The girl about to enter womanhood can find the same assistance from the same source.

Mrs. W. W. Culner, Palatka, Fla., writes:—

"I was in ill health from change of life. I took your compound and am now well. I recommend it as the best remedy for all weakness through the many changes which all women have to pass from early life to the grave."

FAR AND WIDE.

Not on this broad continent alone, but in malarial breeding topical regions, in Guatemala, Mexico, South America, the Isthmus of Panama, and elsewhere, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters affords to inhabitants and sojourners protection against malaria. The miner, the freshly arrived immigrant, the tiller of the virgin soil newly robbed of its forests by the axe of the pioneer, find in the superb antifebrile specific a preserver against the poisonous miasma which in vast districts rich in natural resources, is yet fertile in disease. It annihilates disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, fortifies those who use it against rheumatic ailments breed and fostered by outdoor exposure; infuses genial warmth into a frame chilled by a rigorous temperature, and robs of their power to harm morning and evening mists and vapors laden with hurtfulness; strengthens the weak and conquers incipient kidney trouble.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The Attendance Limited but Business of Interest Transacted.

The Bellefonte Board of Trade met in the Arbitration room Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock and was called to order by President James Harris. Secretary Clement Dale, Esq., read the minutes of previous session which were approved as read.

President James Harris announced the names of Messrs. Al. S. Garman and Hammon Sechler as substitutes for the names of E. C. Humes and Hon. A. G. Curtin on the Manufacturer's committee.

Chairman William Shortlidge, of the manufacturer's committee, reported that the Watsontown car works were not seeking a new location, but a purchaser for the plant.

The Finance committee reported that the County Commissioners grant to the Board of Trade the free use of the Arbitration room, as well as a book case for the keeping of documents, etc. Also that the janitor had been spoken to and arrangements made to have the room in order on the evenings when the Board meets.

Mr. Edward Rhoads reported that the Centre county exhibit of minerals, etc., which was at the World's Fair, could not be obtained for the use of the Board of Trade, as the whole thing goes to State College intact.

Mr. Shortlidge moved that the Board of Trade tender a public reception to the gentlemen who have been instrumental in bringing to a successful completion the new Central Pennsylvania railroad; and that said reception be in the shape of a banquet to be given on the evening of a day to be mutually agreed upon. Mr. Al. S. Garman seconded the motion. In remarks Mr. Shortlidge stated that if such reception be given the railroad company would, during that day, give a free excursion to the Board of Trade from Bellefonte to Mill Hall, and return. The motion was put and carried. President Harris appointed as a committee of arrangements on the above Messrs. Col. William Shortlidge, Charles R. Kurtz, Robert F. Hunter, William Lyon and Edward K. Rhoads, who will have everything in charge, see what can be done and report at the next regular meeting.

The committee on prize essays reported that two of the articles submitted by contestants, showing up the advantages of Bellefonte, were found to be of an excellent character and, it being impossible to choose between the two, the committee concluded to accept both and divide the prize money. The accepted articles were written by F. Potts Green and Albert Owen. The Board of Trade accepted the report and authorized the treasurer to pay to each of the parties the sum of five dollars. Adjourned to meet in one week.

HOW TO GET A HANDSOME HUSBAND.

"When'er some lucky Indian maiden
Found a red ear in the husking,
'Muska!' cried they altogether:
'Muska!' you shall have a sweetheart—
You shall have a handsome husband."

The handsome man always admires the beautiful woman. Then Simply make yourself beautiful. Remove all blotches, pimples, "forked signs of turkey tracks" from your features, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a tonic to the nervous, circulatory and procreative system. Its use bring roses to the cheeks, and sparkle to the eyes. Take it, and you will, like the Indian maiden, find a "red ear" in good health, an omen of future happiness. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it refunded.

AN AWAKENING.

What is it that is awakening people all over the land and causing such a thrill of excitement and gratitude everywhere among the sick and suffering? It is the new departure by that greatest and most successful specialist in the cure of all nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York, who offers to the sick everywhere the opportunity of consulting him by letter, free of charge. Think of it, sufferers, you who have sought in vain for relief, or for a satisfactory explanation of your disease! By writing him about your complaint, this great physician will send you, free of charge, an exact explanation of your disease and what to do to be cured.

He gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters, and makes you understand just what your complaint is. He is the discoverer of that great nerve cure, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and uses nothing in his practice but harmless vegetable medicines. The success which he is having in curing disease through letter correspondence is marvelous. Write him, then, all about your complaint and you will without doubt be cured.

GOOD SENSE!

Disease is largely the result of impure blood. To purify the blood, is to cure the disease! As a blood-purifier and vitalizer, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery stand head and shoulders above any other known specific! Its power in this direction is nothing short of wonderful. Guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case, or money refunded.

DEATH OF JAMES LAURIE.

Once again the death angel has visited Bellefonte and taken from our midst a most exemplary young man in the person of Mr. James Laurie, the oldest son of Dr. William Laurie, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian church. James had been suffering for years with consumption, but by careful habits, seasons spent in more salubrious climates, his health had been well preserved and it was hoped his life would be spared for years to come. But an All-wise providence decreed otherwise and about ten days ago the young man was compelled to take his bed never to rise again. For the past week he continued growing weaker and weaker until the end came, quietly and peacefully, at half-past seven o'clock yesterday morning.

James Laurie was a model young man. Years ago he filled the position of passenger brakeman on the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania railroad until he was compelled to give up his situation on account of his health. Later he was bookkeeper for the Bellefonte Nail company, until the suspension of that firm in 1890. Since that time his health was such as not to permit him to engage in any kind of regular employment. Deceased was an earnest member of the Presbyterian church and the young people's Christian Endeavor Society. He was a great worker in both, but especially did he use his influence and aid to the upbuilding of the latter. He was aged about 31 years. A father, mother, brother and three sisters are left to mourn the loss of one whom, by his kind consideration and thoughtfulness had made himself especially dear.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies, but none did me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me. M. J. Lally. 39 Woodward Ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

After using Ely's Cream Balm two months I was surprised to find that the right nostril, which was closed for over twenty years, was open and free as the other, and can use it now as I could not do for many years. I feel very thankful.—R. H. Cressengham, 275 18th St., Brooklyn.

—Reports from throughout the entire Clearfield coal regions are in effect that times are brightening up considerably. Most of the mines, which have been closed for months, have again been put in operation and running on full time.

A Week of Writing

Would Not Tell the Story

Scrofula for Seven Years—Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"A week devoted to writing would not be sufficient to tell of the good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me. Seven years ago a running sore appeared on my ankle, which grew worse until it entirely covered my foot and the bones came out of my toes. Then the sores appeared on my other foot, right arm and hand. Holes were eaten in my lower limbs, my arm was one great sore from the shoulder down, and the bones came out of two of my fingers. Words

Cannot Tell My Sufferings.

I could not sleep and had no appetite. About three years after the first appearance of the disease my husband read of what Hood's Sarsaparilla had done for others, and urged me to try it. I was confined to the bed at the time, had given up all hope. However, I commenced taking the medicine, and before I had finished the bottle, could sleep, and not only eat, but enjoy my food. Now the

with the exception of one spot on my limb. I thank God for having directed my husband's attention to Hood's Sarsaparilla, otherwise I should have been in my grave. I can now move about with the aid of crutches, and will always need their assistance, but anyone who had seen my condition when I commenced to take would marvel that I am now alive to move at all." MRS. MARY SPEAKMAN, 2725 Latona Street, Philadelphia.

Head Of Four Churches.

Is It Any Wonder Ministers Break Down?

BISHOP PHILIPS BROOKS DIED AS THE RESULT OF OVERWORK.

Rev. Henry Langford, the Eminent Preacher, just Saved from same Fate.

Overwork kills.

The great Bishop, Philips Brooks, was stricken down in the prime of his manhood and usefulness as the direct result of physicial and nervous exhaustion brought on by overwork.

Now comes the news that Rev, Henry Langford, the eminent Baptist divine, of Weston, West Va., has just escaped utter nervous and physical prostration.

He is pastor of four churches. Is it any wonder that he broke down in health?

The reverend gentleman gives a very interesting account of himself and his troubles:

"For ten years," he said, "I have been nervous and growing worse all these years. During the last four or five years I became so nervous I could scarcely sign my name so it could be read. I was so nervous that I could not read my own sermon notes after they had been laid aside a while.

"I was unable to hold my head steady in the pulpit, nor could I hold or handle my books and papers without embarassment, owing to the trembling and weakness of my hands and arms. I was so nervous that I could scarcely feed myself. In fact my nervous system was wrecked.

"I tried many remedies recommended by physicians, but found no permanent relief.

REV. HENRY LANGFORD.

"One day I was in the store of R. S Ogden, at Sardis, W. Va., and he said to me: 'You take two bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and if you say it don't help you, you need not pay for it.'

"I took two bottles of this medicine and found so much relief that I bought two more bottles, and now I am wonderfully improved in health and strength. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy did it. I can heartily and truthfully recommend it to the sick. Too much cannot be said in praise of this splendid medicine.

"I say this for the good of other sufferers from nervous and postrating diseases who can be cured by this remedy. For myself I am thankful to God that I found Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and for what it has done for me."

You who suffer with nervous and physical weakness and prostration from over work or other cause have only to follow the example and recommendation of Rev. Mr. Langford in order to insure a return of health and strength. This truly remarkable and harmless vegetable remedy is the discovery of the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York. The doctor can be consulted in all cases free of charge, personally or by letter.

HORR KEEPS IT UP IN THE TRIBUNE.

While the American people have never seen a time during which they did not have a large array of burning public questions to discuss, there certainly never has been an epoch, since the Revolution, excepting that of 1861, which has given rise to more striking issues than the present. THE TRIBUNE discusses the Silver, Tariff, and Elections questions admirably. That great paper fills a field of its own, and does it well. Readers can subscribe both for THE TRIBUNE and for this paper, if they desire; and the two make an excellent political outfit. THE TRIBUNE'S market reports are superb. Our metropolitan cotemporary deals with national questions with remarkable force, ability and courage. For 50 years it has been a fighter and is no less so now than it ever was. It hits with a good hard stick and seldom misses the mark. It believes that agitation, discussion, and thorough exploring of public questions are the only path, which leads to a patriotic solution of them; and Roswell G Horr's ably-prepared and exhaustive articles in THE TRIBUNE, on the Tariff, Silver, Labor, Wages, etc., will help any citizen to decide right on the issues of the day. It illustrates the news of the day profusely. THE TRIBUNE'S prospectus in another column tells the story more fully. Republicans in this county will do well to subscribe for THE TRIBUNE this year in combination with this paper. An illustrated premium list will be sent by THE TRIBUNE, free, to applicants. Sample copies are also free.

THE MEA TRETURNED.

In last Friday's issue of the DAILY NEWS mention was made of two large pieces of meat having been stolen from Mr. Howard Heaton on Wednesday night. We are glad to say the meat was returned. It is evident that the thief, whoever he was, must have heard of the piece in the NEWS, became conscience-stricken, and the same night returned the meat, putting it in the same place from which he had taken it. Of course, it is needless to say Mr. Heaton was glad to get his meat back.

MAKE A NOTE OF IT!

Read it over and over again, spell it out and sing it, until it is indelibly fixed in your mind, that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is and infallible cure for catarrh of the head, with all its distressing complications. Impaired taste and smell, offensive breath, ringing in the head, defective hearing, nose and throat ailments, are not only relieved, but positively and permanently cured! This is no fancy of the imagination, but a hard, solid fact, proven over and over again, and vouched for, under a forfeiture of $500, by its manufacturers, the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

OFFICERS NOMINATED.

At the last meeting of George L. Potter Post, of Milesburg, the following nominations for officers to be elected for the ensuing year were made:

Commander—Austin Curtin and S. A. Smith.
Sen. Vice Com—Joseph Folmer.
Junior Vice Com—James McMullen.
Quarter Master—W. H. Musser.
Chaplain—Thomas Wilson.
O. D.—James Kreps.
O. G.—Thomas Watson.

Representatives to Annual Encampment to meet in Philadelphia, February, 1894—W. H. Musser, A. S. Smith, Geo. F. Derr, Thos. Wilson, A. G. Royer.

Trustees—Gen. Austin Curtin.

No other sarsaparilla has equaled Hood's in the relief it gives in severest cases of dyspepsia, sick headache, billious, etc.

Mr. William B. Lucas, an old soldier of Boggs township, had his pension suspended last June, and was ordered to go to Clearfield to undergo an examination. Subsequently, he was restored temporarily, but last Saturday he was again notified that he had been suspended and would be given sixty days in which to prove up his claim.

—There are some men in Bellefonte, and we thank Heaven they are few in number, whose very existence is an enigma. They take no part in anything that does not smack largely—and very largely, too—of self-interest; they decry any organization or enterprise in which they are not financially concerned, and they discourage every movement that has for its object the upbuilding of the community or the advancement of their fellowmen. What such men were ever born into the world for, is a conundrum that will probably never be solved.

Scrofula in its Worst Stages CURED!

Boston Specialist Baffled but the King of Blood Purifiers Wins!!

MANCHESTER, N. H.,
DANA SARSAPARILLA CO.,

Gentlemen:—With a feeling of deep gratitude in our hearts, we wish to add our testimonial to the large list of cures your GREAT MEDICINE has performed.

Some four years ago, our little daughter Hattie, then 7 years of age, began to show

SYMPTOMS OF SCROFULA.

The disease rapidly increased. We consulted one of the best Physicians in the City, who began at once to treat her, but instead of abating the disease rapidly advanced. We became alarmed. Took her to Boston and placed her under the care of a famous Specialist, but in spite of his skill on different parts of her body. The fingers of her right hand swelled to twice their natural size, suppuration around the nails caused three of them to drop off. We were in despair. Hearing DANA'S SARSAPARILLA recommended as a Great Blood Purifier, we, as a last resort, concluded to try it. At first it seemed to hurt her.

LARGE SORES FORMED

WE CAME NEAR GIVING IT UP.

We read the directions, reduced the dose to half a teaspoonful. When she CURES had taken three bottles, we saw improvement. She has now taken eight bottles and is perfectly well—cheeks rosy—spirits buoyant. And the only thing left to remind us of her terrible condition, is the absence of the three nails whose entire roots were destroyed.

Gratefully yours,
MR. & MRS. JAS. A. HARDY.

SEVEN MAGAZINES IN ONE!

ST. NICHOLAS FOR YOUNG FOLKS.

"WIDE AWAKE" NOW MERGED IN IT. ENLARGED BY 200 ADDITIONAL PAGES IN THE VOLUME. EVERYTHING ILLUSTRATED.

OF all publications for boys and girls, ST. NICHOLAS, conducted by Mary Mapes Dodge, is unquestionably the best. It has been prized by the press and the people of two continents,—its circulation is unprecedented among magazines for young folks. Beginning with the number for November, 1893, it is enlarged by the addition of about 200 pages in the volume, and for 1893-94 it will have the greatest program in its history, including brilliantly illustrated, describing the quadrupeds of North America in a popular way, by W T Hornaday, recently Chief Taxidermist of the U. S. National Museum;

A NATURAL HISTORY SERIES,

"TOM SAWYER ABROAD",

a Serial Story by Mark Twain,

by which the great humorist's famous creations, "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn," visit the eastern hemisphere (in a flying-machine); a series on by Brander Matthews, setting forth in clear and simple form the main biographical facts and the chief literary qualities of famous men in American literature, including Irving, Cooper, Bryant, Hawthorne, Emerson, Lowell, etc.;

STORIES OF INDIA
BY RUDYARD KIPLING.

When Rudyard Kipling was a boy in India he used to read ST. NICHOLAS, and now he takes his turn at bringing delight to the thousand of young folks who read it to-day. He has written for ST. NICHOLAS a series of remarkable stories of boy and girl life in the jungle and with animals.

"RECOLLECTIONS OF WILD LIFE,"

by Dr. Charles Eastman, a full-blooded Sioux Indian, and a graduate of a white man's college (Dartmouth); a description of Indian life,—in camp and on the war path,—described from the inside. A novelty in literature.

PAPERS ON THE GOVERNMENT.

"How Money is Made" (the Mint), "How the Treasury is Guarded," How the Government Promotes Ingenuity "(the Patent-Office), "The Dead-Letter Office," "With the West Points Cadets," "How Armies Talk to Each Other," "Life on a Man-of-War," etc.

SERIAL STORIES BY

Howard Pyle,
Frances Courtenay Taylor,
James Otis,
Molly Elliot Seawell and
The Author of "Lady Jane."

THE FAMOUS "BROWNIES,"

by Palmer Cox, will also be a feature of ST. NICHOLAS.

Are you going to have ST. NICHOLAS in your home in '94? New subscribers should begin with November. The price of ST. NICHOLAS is $3.00 a year. Everything in it is illustrated. of THE N. Y. TRIBUNE are now positively the best printed by any newspaper in New York City. THE TRIBUNE is the only newspaper in New York, which sends men personally into every market in the city every day of the business week to obtain actual prices and the state of trade. Other papers make up quotations largely from circulars. Commercial travelers say unanimously that THE TRIBUNE'S Market Reports are the best. THE TRIBUNE now beats all rivals in the accuracy and wonderful completeness of its quotations. To be successful, a practical and level headed man must keep fully informed as to Prices and the State of Trade. This can be done by taking THE TRIBUNE.

A NEW NOVEL BY MARK TWAIN.

The most dramatic story ever written by America's greatest humorist. Like several of Mark Twain's stories, it has for its scene a steamboat town on the Mississippi River forty years ago. "Pudd'n head Wilson," a hard-headed country lawyer, the hero of the story, furnishes much of the fun that one naturally expects to find in a work by the author of "The Innocents Abroad," but he appears in quite another light in the murder trial which forms the thrilling climax of the story. The plot introduces a novel and ingenious employment of science in the detection of crime, and the characters are well drawn and their every action is interesting. THE CENTURY will contain

A PROFITABLE BUSINESS.

Dr. B. H. Warren, of West Chester, the State Ornithologist, was in Pittsburg Monday and to a Times reporter gave a history of how the law of bounty on birds and mammals of prey was abused several years ago. Dr. Warren said:

"In Eastern Ohio it was discovered that certain persons collected the eggs of hawks and owls, and hatched them under chickens in the border counties of Pennsylvania. These counties were the dumping grounds for head and scalps, and one of them, Crawford county, paid $12,000 in one year in bounties. That same year $150,000 was paid in the State. In Maryland some men caught hawks and owls in steel traps, and as the law of Pennsylvania required that they be killed in the State, they carried them over the border line and killed them and collected the bounty under the law.

"Five men of Blair county, one of them a justice of the peace, organized themselves into a band to collect bounties under the general act and the local laws in Blair and adjoining counties. In one year, it is said, they got $4,000 for the scalps of birds and mammals. Of this amount $3,000 is stated by reliable authority to have been realized from a buffalo robe, a mule skin and the hide of a colt which died in foaling. They got a dead crow and one took it to the justice of the peace, who was a member of the band. The required oath was made and the bounty collected. The justice threw the crow out of the window, and another of the gang carried it into the office and collected the bounty again. Once more the crow was thrown out and was carried in again. This was repeated many times and was for the purpose of technically easing the official conscience of the justice, who wanted at least a pretense at complying with the law. They were caught up and got off lightly through strenuous efforts in their behalf.

"There is not so much of that work being done now, but occasionally a case is brought to light. The rapid disappearance of birds and mammals of prey has robbed the professional bounty hunter of his job. Fox and mink scalps are frequently turned in, as are those of other mammals and of predatory birds, but the scalps of the animals on which the bounty is large are rarely ever seen. When one does appear the chances are that it is a bogus one."

—The Lock Haven Express is authority for the statement that a Tyrone man, who had a terrible pain in his stomach, on being given a powerful emetic, threw up a garter snake eleven inches in length. That's nothing. There is a man in Bellefonte who had a pain in his stomach, took several drinks of Lock Haven whiskey and threw up a "rattler."

—For sending a dun on a postal card a Hastings man has just effected the settlement of a suit for damages by remitting the amount of the bill in question, paying the cost, and giving the prosecutor fifty dollars. That fellow should get some bill heads printed.

WITH YOUR HANDS TIED

by some chronic "female complaint" or weakness, what can you expect? There's nothing you can accomplish — nothing you can enjoy. And no good reason for it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure you, safely and certainly, if you'll give it faithful use.

For every one of these womanly troubles, this is the only remedy so sure that it can be guaranteed. In periodical pains, bearing-down sensations, organic displacements, and every kindred ailment, and in all the nervous disorders caused by functional derangements—if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

It's a potent remedy for Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance—for Insomnia or Inability to Sleep and to avert threatened insanity. It regulates all the natural functions, builds up and invigorates the entire female system, and restores health and strength.

Nothing else, though it may be better for a dealer to sell, can be "just as good" for you to buy.

There wouldn't be any cases of Chronic Catarrh if everyone used Dr. Sage's Remedy. There's $500 reward for an incurable case.

He died in the morning—died in the farmhouse where he was born—in the quiet, peaceful neighborhood in which he had grown almost to manhood, where for miles around the farmers and their families knew him or his parents. Before the sun set that warm summer day everybody knew that Thomas Baker's son James was dead, and that the funeral would occur two days later at 2 o'clock p. m. How did everybody know it? The clerk in the store at the Corners told it to such farmers, their wives, sons and daughters as came to trade, and they passed the word along. If no one was visible in the fields, they called in front of each house they passed until the door opened. If the caller was the farmer or one of his sons, the message of death was delivered in this way:

"Tom Baker's boy Jim died yesterday. Funeral day after tomorrow at 2 o'clock." If the farmer's wife or daughter told the sorrowful news, it was done in this way, or about so: "Mrs. Thomas Baker's son James is dead—died at 9 o'clock this morning. He will be buried day after tomorrow at 2. Mrs. Diedrich will take a bunch of sweet pea blossoms, and I am going to send Johnny over to the pond for some lilies. Can't you take some pansies, phlox and geraniums? I heard that Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Vincent and Mrs. Good are going to take mignonette and goldenrod."

I was nearly half a mile away, but I heard Farmer Loehr call to Farmer Holliday and say: "Did you know that poor Jim Baker was dead? Yes, died this morning. Burial takes place at 2 o'clock Wednesday." Not less than a dozen different persons told the news to my entertainers, pioneers of the neighborhood. That is the way everybody for five miles roundabout came to know of the sorrow in the home of generous neighbor Baker.

My friend asked me if I cared to go to the funeral. I did. The day before I had taken a long ride through the neighborhood and had noticed that all the farmers and their sons and on some farms the wives and daughters were as busy as beavers in harvest fields. The broad brimmed hats all wore—men, boys and women—the plain gray, brown or half red wearing apparel made the women all look alike, and it was not easy to tell one man from another. But they were substantial citizens, specimens of the real bone and sinew of the land. "They will not look like the same people when you see them at young Baker's funeral," remarked my friend. "Do you mean to tell me that those farmers and their families in this busy harvest time will stop work, or more than a few of them, to attend a funeral?" "Watch and see," was his lone response to a question he seemed astonished to hear propounded.

Soon after 1 o'clock there were seen little dust clouds on half a dozen roads centering at the Corners half a mile from Baker's. "We will go early, so that you may see our people under different circumstances—see them away from their farms, out of their working suits and in their dress up clothes." Half an hour before it was time for the services to begin there was a constant coming of carriages—bright, clean, modern carriages—all bearing men with clean shaven faces, clad in stylish clothes, women in fine gowns and hats, and children as pretty of feature and as well dressed as their city cousins, and they looked and were a great deal healthier.

For a quarter of a mile on both sides of the road teams were hitched to the fences. The house of mourning was crowded, and the ample grounds were filled with sympathizing neighbors and friends. As far as the eye could reach—and it could reach a long way in that level tract of the finest farming land in Wisconsin—not a farmer or a member of his family or a hired man could be seen at work that afternoon. All work had been suspended that everybody might go to the funeral.

What a beatiful custom that! A brother farmer and his family were in sorrow. Their neighbors would express their sympathy by participating in the last sad rites by following the silent sleeper to the grave. This they did, and with a warm press of the hand, and in many cases a choking, broken word of regret at the loss they had met with, they lifted a heavy load from the hearts of the weeping family.

The hymns were sung by a hurriedly collected choir from a couple of farmers' families. I shall never forget the soft, solemn, sympathetic way in which the possessors of those sweet voices rendered the touching hymns. The young minister read the beautiful and impressive Episcopal service in a clear, ringing voice, as though he had done so many times, but that was his first experience as pastor at a funeral. Several different nationalties were present. Baptists, Methodists, Catholics, Episcopalians, Congregationalists, Presbyterians and those who belong to no church reverently bowed their heads when the good man spoke his message to the King of kings, who looks into hearts instead of church pews when he seeks to know of and about his people.

My attention was called to two clusters of men, one under an apple tree and the other under a maple. In the welcome shade of the latter were a dozen or more of gray haired men. On their left breasts were pinned a familiar badge. These men had come from a dozen widely separated farms for the purpose of showing their comrade in trouble that they were ready with sympathy and would be glad to aid him in any manner in their power. They were soldiers—comrades of Baker, who had been a hero in the Thirteenth New York. While I was not surprised to see this evidence of brotherly love—of true comradeship—I was deeply affected by it.

Under the other tree there was assembled a delegation of Odd Fellows from the lodge to which the young man's father belonged. There, too, was evidence of true fraternity. The fraternal spirit was apparent on all sides. How beautiful, strong, helpful and splendid is the true fraternal spirit!

Do I give evidence of weakness when I say that some of the time I was watching that long procession—it was more than a mile long—winding its way to the little graveyard on the hill overlooking the old mill pond I watched through tears? It was my first experience at a funeral in the country. The impression it made will be lasting. "It was just an average funeral," was my friend's remark on my comment that it was the most impressive funeral that I had ever attended.—J. A. Watrous in Milwaukee Telegraph.

The Penalty.

"Ho! You say your prayers every night and morning, do you?" jeered the bad little boy. "Yes, and so would you if you had to do it or take a lickin," replied the good little boy firmly.—Chicago Tribune.

SHORN OF THEIR HORNS.

An Operation Necessary to Render Vicious Young Buck Deer Harmless.

Five vigorous young buck deer at the zoo are harmless as a result of operations with lasso and meat saw by Director Smith and his six assistants. Bucks with horns, hard horns, are dangerous to the lives of their mates, their keepers and themselves. Everything about them in their quarters shows the effect of rough usage, even the trees, fences and ground. All the trees in the inclosure have to be protected by iron railings. Otherwise their lives would be torn out by the wicked deer.

Ordinarily a buck's horns are allowed to grow until nature sheds them. If the animals are of a particularly good disposition, this is allowable. But in most cases they become vicious as soon as the velvet has dried and worn off their antlers, and they become dangerous.

The first thing necessary in relieving a buck of its horns is to catch the buck. In an inclosure a lasso is resorted to, and only by those quick with the eye and leg. All the keepers went to the two fallow deer paddocks armed with lassos. Some were as efficient as cowboys. Others resorted to the dodge act, getting behind trees as the bucks dashed for them, full of fight, stamping their feet in righteous rage.

Five beautiful fallow deer occupied the north paddock. One was so fat that the director hesitated about catching it. But as it was the worst of the lot it had to undergo the operation. So much for a bad disposition.

Keeper Snyder laid his plans for that one first. The buck, with lowered head and distorted nostrils, charged the keeper. Snyder dodged and swung his lariat. It missed and fell on the animal's back. Another dash, this time for the other keepers. All got out of the way. One more swing by Snyder, and the loop fell over the buck's horns. A tug-of-war resulted, Keepers Snyder, Holmes, Warren and Cook on one end of the rope and the buck on the other.

Slowly the buck was drawn up to a tree until its antlers went around both sides. Snyder and Warren then seized its legs, and as the animal jumped back threw it. All four of its legs were tied underneath, as a calf is treated on going to market in a farm buggy. The buck's struggles were fearful, and a thin coating of blood and froth appeared at its nostrils. After being secured Keeper Shannon produced a common meat saw, and in two minutes the noble animal had been shorn of its adornments.

It was so weak when released that after a couple of terrific bounds it landed flat on the ground and panted and heaved. While it was recovering the others underwent the same operation. Invariably whenever a lasso was thrown the animals bounded into the air six feet, and the noose fell short. Three thousand spectators saw the battle and cheered the men on.

In one of the buck's charges Keeper Holmes' knee was badly bruised by a blow from the animal's hoofs. If the blow had been square, his leg might have been broken. When released, the bucks bounded away to the iron fence, their heads striking it 10 feet above the ground, only to fall and recover themselves for another charge.

One got his head between the bars, and it being a tight fit the whole fence shook as it tugged and jerked. It seemed as if it would break its neck. Instead, the iron bars, an inch in diameter, bent aside and allowed the head to escape. Another buck charged with anch abandon that its nose bled.

The first one clipped was in a bad way for some time. The keepers had to carry it into the house, where it lay fainting and unable to rise. Mr. Smith said the fat had accumulated to such an extent about the animal's heart that the action of that organ was materially affected, and as in the case of an overfat person great excitement was liable to produce heart failure.—New York World.

A Foretaste of Death.

A foreshadowing affecting its subject as with a foretaste of death was that recorded by Charles Mackay of his friend, Mr. Ingram, founder of the London Illustrated News. Traveling together in Switzerland, the two were witnesses one night in Chamounix of one of the thunderstorms that rage with such appalling grandeur amid those mountainous regions. Mackay's raptures over the scene were checked by seeing his friend crouched in a corner on the floor, his face pale, his hair on end with terror. The paroxysm was succeeded by unconsciousness, on recovering from which he told Mackay how, ever since he could remember, he had been possessed of this unaccountable and utterly uncontrollable horror of a thunderstorm.

Some eight years later Mr. Ingram was crossing Lake Michigan when the steamer was run into by a sailing vessel, and amid a scene of terror and confusion, it being night and a violent thunderstorm raging, crew and passengers were precipitated into the waters. As it was five hours before Ingram's body, still warm with recent life, was washed ashore, he must have been struggling all that time—an eternity of suffering to one like him—in the dark, tempestuous waters beneath the lightning riven sky.—London Tit-Bits.

Washing Cooking Utensils.

Sometimes the most careful washing will not wholly remove the flavor or odor of food from the utensil in which it was cooked. This is frequently the case with fish, onions, cabbage, etc., but there is a remedy which may be a little trouble and yet is well worth trying.

After any of these articles have been cooked wash the utensil carefully with soap and water. Now nearly fill it with cold water, and for each quart of water add about a tablespoonful of dissolved washing soda. Place on the fire and let the water get boiling hot. Now turn this water into the sink. Rinse the utensil with clean warm water, and on wiping it dry it will be found perfectly sweet.—Exchange.

Knew His Step.

"Did you know that I passed your door last evening?" said the young man tenderly.

"Of course," replied the beautiful girl, with reproach in her glistening eyes. "Do you not think I would know your step?"

"Certainly," said the happy young man as he directed the conversation away from the subject and avoided remarking that he had passed the door in a cab.—Chicago Record.

Mohammed.

Mohammed was epileptic. He persistently claimed to be a messenger from God, receiving his first revelation at the age of 42. He lost his father in infancy and his mother in childhood; was a traveling merchant and married a wealthy widow 15 years older than himself. His revelations began with visions in sleep. He used to live alone in a cave. He had interviews with the angel Gabriel.—New York Times.

GETTING RID OF A QUACK.

A Man Who Played the Hair Oil Trick Upon Him to Advantage.

In a New England city not many miles from Boston is an old quack doctor known throughout the town for his large supply of "cheek." He had no regular abiding place, but picked up his lodgings around at different cheap boarding houses and lived on the profits of his patent medicines. He spent a good deal of his time in a certain drug store, and, moreover, he was accustomed to go there every morning and use the back shop to make his toilet in. He had an old greasy bottle of hair oil and a brush and comb, which he kept in the shop without leave from anybody. The proprietor got rather tired of having him around so much, and therefore he resorted to stratagem to get rid of him.

He took the hair oil bottle, poured out the oil and carefully replaced it with a mixture of thin fish glue and bay rum. Then he put the bottle back in its accustomed place.

The next morning the old quack showed up, and after some cordial greetings to the proprietor of the store he asked leave to use the back shop, as was his habit.

"Certainly, certainly," responded the druggist; "the back shop is at your disposal."

Whereupon the old gentleman started in to arrange his toilet. Pouring out a liberal dose of the mixture in the oil bottle, he rubbed it thoroughly over his head till his hair was completely saturated with it. Then he carefully combed and parted his somewhat long locks, and placing his old stovepipe hat squarely on his head he passed out, wishing the proprietor a pleasant "Good morning."

He was seen again after several days by the druggist, but it was not in the drug store. He was crossing the street, and he wore a new soft hat and an extra close hair cut. The druggist went down to a neighboring barber shop. "Did Dr. W. come in here on Wednesday?" he asked.

"I should say he did," replied the barber, "and a madder man than he was never stood up."

"What did you do for him?" inquired the druggist.

"I cut his hair to get his hat off, and then I cut the hat to get the hair off. Liquid glue is pretty strong when it's dry, ain't it?"

"You bet it is," said the druggist.—Boston Journal.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

GEHEBE WENT GUNNING.

Bounced as Keeper of a Lockup He Goes in Search of Revenge.

NORWALK, Conn., November 15—Special Officer Charles Gehebe, keeper of the city lockup for many years and who had been notified by the selectmen that his services were no longer required, armed himself with a heavy revolver late last evening and started out to kill the three officers who constitute the board of selectmen. Samuel Daskam's residence was first visited. Mr. Daskam had retired, but when Gehebe attempted to force his way into the house past Mrs. Daskam, her husband appeared with a shot gun and the assailant fled. Gehebe then walked a mile to Selectman Baymond's house, in East Norwalk, but he was preceded by his young son who had got wind of his father's murderous intention and who gave the alarm.

Gehebe was only a moment behind his boy, however, and forcing his way into Mr. Raymond's room where the selectman was reading, he attempted to shoot Mr. Raymond. The latter ran into the kitchen. Gehebe followed, but Raymond saved his life probably by leaping through the kitchen window and hiding behind a neighbor's barn. Selectman Talmage Baker's residence at South Norwalk was also visited, but Mr. Baker had retired.

All this time the police had been in pursuit, but Gehebe was not captured until to-day. He is a German of a very excitable temper. He rarely uses liquor, but it is thought he got intoxicated last night when he learned that he was to be succeeded in his position as keeper of the lockup by another man and for the time being was violently insane.

ROBBED OF $20,000.

CHICAGO, November 15.—John A. Drake, treasurer of the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad company, was sand bagged and robbed of $20,000 in the office of the company at 7 o'clock to-day. Mr. Drake had the money in a little hand satchel and was preparing to go out on the road to pay the employes. He had at first placed the cash in the valise and was about to leave the office when two men stole up behind him and felled him to the floor by several hard blows on the head, snatched the satchel from him and fled.

The bulk of the money stolen was cash. The checks formed the rest of the roll. They are payable to bearer and in general will be available as cash. At the company's office Mr. Drake's injuries are not regarded as serious. He was removed to his home soon after the assault was discovered. His injuries are said to be a blow and contusion on the upper and front part of the head, a blow and abrasion over the nose and one or two small cuts on the face. Whether he was knocked into insensibility when the blows were struck he did not say.

ANOTHER CRANK HEARD FROM.

BOSTON, Mass., November 15.—A young man giving the name of Harry Loomis Spring entered the office of the Fred L. Ames estate and endeavored to negotiate a loan without offering any security but his word of honor. He persistently refused to leave the building and was finally removed by an officer. A letter containing an avowal of love abounding in passionate expressions and terms of endearment was found in his possession. It was addressed to "Dear Helen."

The letter it afterwards transpired was intended for Miss Helen Gould, daughter of the late Jay Gould, and from its general tone it was quite evident that he had addressed letters to her on more than one occasion.

In one portion of the letter Spring asks her not to be an ignus fatus to him, forever eluding his grasp. With her love he could forever be happy. From one sentence it was easy to infer that her refusal to answer his letters had greatly depressed him.

WORK FOR 500 MEN.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., November 15.—Simpson & Watkins, extensive coal operators at Scranton, have leased for a long term of years the Harry E. and Forty Fort colliers of the Wyoming Valley Coal company. They have never been opened to their full capacity as yet. The new firm are already in possession and will at once begin to drive gangways, put in new machinery and run both mines to their full capacity with 500 miners, laborers and slate pickers. These mines are located three miles from here and produce the best coal mined in the anthracite region.

MET IN READING.

READING, Pa., November 15.—The annual meeting of the Women's auxiliary to the board of missions of the Episcopal diocese of Central Pennsylvania was held in Christ cathedral this afternoon. About fifty delegates were present. The wife of Bishop Howe presided. The report of the secretary and treasurer Mrs. Stone showed that $7,414.91 were received during the year which was distributed among the home and foreign missions. This sum exceeded last year's. An open meeting was held this evening at which addresses were made by Bishop Howe, Bishop Rulison, Bishop Ferguson, of Cape Palmos, Africa, and others.

THE OFFICIAL FIGURES.

HARRISBURG, November 15.—Here are the official figures as compared at the state department to-day: For state treasurer-Jackson, republican, 442,248; Osburn democrat, 307,102; Kent, prohibitionist, 21,258; Windsor, people's party, 6,976. For Supreme Court—Fell, republican, 439,713; Thomspon, democrat, 306,302; Ames, prohibitionist, 21,733; Stevenson, people's party, 7,268.

CAUSED BY BARDSLEY.

HARRISBURG, November 15.—A conference of the auditor general, state treasurer and attorney general on the part of the commonwealth and City Treasurer McCreary and City Solicitor Warwick on the part of Philadelphia was held this afternoon for the purpose of smoothing out the financial tangles between the state and city caused by John Bardsley's peculiar methods. The city paid to the commonwealth $85,690.82 tax on loans for 1890, which was once before paid to Bardsley; $305,092.86, the balance of personal property tax for 1891, and $525,962.43, the balance of personal property tax for 1890, the payments aggregating $916,746.11. The state treasurer then paid to the city $109,937.07, the balance of its share of personal property tax for 1890 and $276,-303.12, balance on same account for 1891. It was also paid $861,831.16, the whole of the city's share of the personal property tax for 1892. In a short time the city will receive $200,000, the balance of the school appropriation for this year, and nearly $1,-000,000 as its share of the peasonal property tax for 1893.

APPEAL FROM CONVICTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The ten arrested Russian convicts who escaped from Siberia and were brought here by two whaling vessels issued an appeal to-day to the "dear United States people," in which they detail what would become of them if they were returned to Siberia. They say they will be starved, loaded with chains and lashed until rivers of blood run on the ground. "It is so cold there," the appeal says, "that blood will freeze on the ground and look like red ice."

It will then be their fate to work at night in the woods carrying great trees. "If we do not walk fast and cut fast with axes," the statement continues, "they will flog us again; then sores will come, and in a few weeks we will die. While we are working and dying slowly we will be starved because we have got away to your country. No man in Saghalin eats so much in seven days as one man in your prison eats in one day. Rather than go back to Russia we would stay in your jail."

THE LIFE SAVING SERVICE.

WASHINGTON, November 15.—Sumner I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life saving service, in his annual report to Secretary Carlisle, states that at the close of the last fiscal year the establishment embraced 244 stations. The number of disasters to documented vessels within the field of operations of the service during the year was 427. There were on board these vessels 3,565 persons, of whom 3,542 were saved and twenty-three lost. Six hundred and sixty-three shipwrecked persons received succor at the stations.

The estimated value of the vessels involved in the disasters was $6,414,075, and that of their cargoes $1,684,000, making a total value of property imperiled $8,096,-075. Of this amount $6,442,505 was saved and $1,655,570 lost.

AGAINST THE FERRIS WHEEL.

ATLANTIC CITY, N, J., November 16.—William Somers, of this city, patentee of the "Roundabout" wheels, has secured a verdict against the Ferris Wheel company, of Chicago, for an infringement of his patent. The case was tried in the circuit court of Chicago and afterward carried to the United States court in Philadelphia, where the evidence was taken two weeks ago.

Mr. Ferris on the witness stand testified that in 1892 he was in Atlantic City and rode on the Somers wheel. He considered it a popular amusement and afterwards built from this suggestion the big Ferris wheel. The court has not yet fixed the amount of damages on royalty.

A REPORT MADE PUBLIC.

WASHINGTON, November 16—The report J. Fount Tillman, who on the first of July last succeeded General W. S. Rosencrans, resigned, as register of the treasury is just made public. In October, 1892, the the names of holders of registered bonds, who for various reasons were supposed to be of foreign nationality, were compiled and found to amount to about $18,600,000 out of which only $4,830,300 appeared upon the foreign ledgers.

This sum, Mr. Tillman thinks, is much nearer the truth that the "extravagant guesses which have oftentimes been made and printed." No attempt was made to estemate the amount of United States coupon bonds held abroad.

ENJOINED FROM MAKING A LEASE.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Nov. 16.—F. G. Patterson, who was recently re-installed in the office of the President of the Altoona, Clearfield and Northern Railroad company by the State Supreme Court, was enjoined by the Blair county court to-day from entering any contract or lease or sale of the company franchises with the Pennsylvania railroad Company. The injunction was issued at the instance of the stockholders, who desire to sell the road to the Beech Creek Company.

VICTORIES FOR ARABS.

Advices Received From the Congo Free States.

BRUSSELS, November 16.—Mail despatches from the Congo free states have brought details of Captain Dhani's victories over the Arabs at Nyangwe and Kasonge some months ago.

The Arabs had entrenched themselves along the Condo and outnumbered the Belgians 20 to 1. Nevertheless after a bloody fight, the Belgians carried the Arab possessions. Many Arabs were killed and wounded and 8,000 were taken prisoners. The fugitive Arabs tried to cross the Lualaba river, some distance southeast of Nyangwe. Hundreds were drowned and the rest scattered in all directions. Letters found upon the prisoners showed that the Arabs had planned to expel the Europeans from the whole Congo region.

Farther north on the Congo, Captain Pouthier, after capturing Kibundu halfway between Stanley Falls, and Rina Riba, drove Rachid and Kibonge with their men for three days across the country. The Europeans made thousands of prisoners and seized 1,200 rifles. Among the prisoners were twenty-five Arab chiefs, one of them, Abibo Ben Said, who killed Emin Pasha in October 1892, in the northeastern part of the Congo free state. The murderer was court marshalled and shot soon after being identified.

The story of Emin Pasha's death, as reported last September, is confirmed again by the dispatches received to-day. The only survivors of the massacre was the Zanzibarite, Asinia, Emin's mistress, and their child, Monsonna. The Arabs spared the boy in the expectation that if endowed with his father's brains and energy he might be trained to be a great leader.

All of Emin's latest papers were received to-day and delivered to King Leopold.

The leaders of the Belgians in the Condo free state say that nearly all the children of the Arab chieftain in the Congo regions have been captured.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., November 16—Ira Sanford Tate, charged with the murder of Russell Tasker and the poisoning of his own wife, was captured last night and is in jail. Tate's criminal record is almost without any equal. In 1882 he killed Tasker and surrendered to the officers. While in jail he was permitted to go with an officer to visit a sick sister. Tate jumped through a window and escaped. After his escape it was charged that he posioned his wife in West Virginia. For two years the officers have worked quietly, and last night picked him up at Weltytown, Westmoreland country. He offered resistance but was overpowered. He has been conducting a notion store supplied mostly with goods stolen while he has a member of the Cooley gang of desperados. Tate's brother and father are both serving time in the penitentiary.

WRECK IN ALABAMA.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 16.—A passenger train on the Eastern Alabama road was derailed and wrecked near Lafayette this morning. The coaches caught fire and Thomas Driver, a passenger, was burned up in the smoking car. The other passengers were rescued but many were badly injured. Among the injured are: Judge J. R. Dowdell, arm and jaw broken injury is fatal; E. J. Mitchell, skull fractured, injuries fatal; J. F. Mitchell, badly cut about face and cheek; W. C. Hunter, internal injuries; J. P. Osborne, arm broken; a child of Mrs. Robert, shoulder broken. Several other passenger were slightly bruised. All the injured people are residents of Alabama.

ANOTHER CRANK ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, November 16.—A special from Paterson, N. J., to the Evening Sun, says: A crank, who gave his name to the police as Joseph Smith, is now locked up at police headquarters for threatening to blow up St. Bonaventure's monastery in this city.

Smith called at the monastery last night and demanded from the mother superior $5,000. He threatened to blow up the building with dynamite unless his demand was complied with. He finally went away but returned and renewed the threat to destroy the monastery with dynamite if he did not get the money. The mother superior telephoned to the police and the crank was arrested.

USE DANA'S SARSAPARILLA, ITS "THE KIND THAT CURES."

IS CONSUMPTION CURABLE.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—An American physician prescribing the new treatment for consumption discovered by one of his countrymen, Dr. Amick, of Cincinnati, says: "The average French doctor is more bigoted than his American brother. The recent Tuberculosis Congress held here decreed that there is no use trying to save the consumptive's life and that even after death the patient cannot be allowed to rest, but must be cremated because otherwise earthworms will bring the germs of the disease to the surface and so distribute the incurable disease. The American doctor is creating something of a sensation by contending that the disease is not caused by germs, is not infectious and that it is now curable. He proves this by giving each patient a ten days' trial of the Amick treatment without charge which he says he is authorized to do by the discoverer."

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.
A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.
DOBBS FERRY, N. Y.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.
Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.
PITTSBURGH, PA.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four month before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,
MRS. JULIEN MORRISON.
CINCINNATI, OHIO.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. LOTZ.

—The postmaster general has authorized a standing reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of any person who shall rob the mail while being conveyed in mail cars; $500 for any one who shall rob the mail whilepassing over star routes and $850 for any one who shall attempt to rob the mail while in transit.

—The Millheim Journal says: The hunting party we mentioned in last week's paper returned from Sandy Ridge this week, having become disgusted with the bad luck that seemed to attend their expedition. They report that the three dogs they had taken with them were poisoned by Mifflin county hunters, who evidently wanted to drive our hunters from the ground. Our boys say they "have it in for them."

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 137. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recomendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

DEATH OF MISS MILLER.

Expired Wednesday Evening at 9.50 O'clock.

Considerable interest and sympathy have been attached to the case of Miss Margaret M. Miller, the young lady who was struck by the train last Saturday afternoon, and many a wish and hope was expressed for her recovery from an accident that would have killed many persons outright, but it was not to be, and death relieved her of further suffering at 9.50 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Their circumstances of the accident and the nature of Miss Miller's injuries have already been detailed in full. She bore up bravely under the first surgical attendance rendered, and for the first few days seemed to be improving, but it was the illusion of a paralyzed system. The shock was so great that it was several days before reaction fully set in, and when it did come the human body was not able to bear the tortures of pain and suffering incident to her manifold injuries. The young lady sank slowly, but surely until the end came. She was conscious until the last, and, knowing that her end was near, took affectionate leave of her family and friends.

Miss Miller was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Miller. She was aged 23 years, 1 month and 8 days. She was a young lady of irreproachable character, most amiable disposition, a dutiful daughter and a kind and loving sister. She will be sadly missed, not only in the now desolate household, but by the many friends she had won by her lady-like ways. A mother and father and two sisters, Mary A., married to Charles Gares, and Catharine A., at home, mourn the death of a dearly loved one, but they have a hope of an eternal reunion that may, in part, mitigate the anguish of this sad parting.

FROM MILESBURG.

There are four people in this place who husk corn every day. They husked sixty bushels in four days, and the widow got six bushels out of the sixty. Mary says she is the best husker in this place, and that William and Horace were left behind because they had no girls.

Fietta Friese and Clara Walker, of Moshannon, are visiting friends in this place. Did you see them, Eddie?

Seely Hardigan, who was out in the bark woods for quite a while, came home the other day. Seely forgot to shave while he was away and everybody says, if Christmas was a little nearer, they would have taken him for Santa Claus.

The young man who went to see his best girl Sun lay night and got badly left, has our sympathy. Why was thus this, Irvin?

Adam Gingher and William Askman went visiting Sunday evening.

TAME GIRL.

—The writer of the following won the prize recently offered by a newspaper for the answer to the question "how to keep husbands home at night." A Quaker advised his son to keep his eyes wide open when courting; after marriage to keep them half shut. If you did not act on the first part of the advice, try the latter. Study your husband's disposition and be sure to make a thorough study of your own. Try using a little tact and a good deal of consideration for his wishes and feelings and if you can not teach him to be more considerate of yours. Business is trying. Men like peace at home. If possible manage not to be worn out. Be cheerful. Don't worry. Don't scold."

IMPROVED ELECTRIC MOTOR TRUCK.

The Tyrone correspondent in a letter to the Harrisburg Patriot says: An improved electric motor truck has been invented by Dr. James T. Wilson, of Tyrone, which threatens to revolutionize the present street car and in many cases take the place of steam motors. It is on the storage battery system, and can be made from one ounce power up to a hundred horse power if necessary. For street car purposes two motors would be sufficient to make a speed of thirteen miles an hour, although that speed could readily be increased.

SHOT HIMSELF.

John Smith, an English miner living near Allport, with his son Thomas was out gunning last Sunday. On their way home in the afternoon the son picked up a bird's wing from the roadside and asked his father if he could tell him what the bird was. Smith set his gun down between his legs to examine the wing, when the weapon went off, striking him in the left breast and killing him instantly. The unfortunate man leaves a wife and four children, two of whom are married. He was about 62 years of age and had been in America some eight years.—Philipsburg Ledger.

DEATH AT ROLAND.

On Tuesday last Mrs. Theodore Aikey departed this life after a lingering illness with that terrible scourge of our northern clime, consumption. Always a patient lady, she bore with great fortitude and chris resignation the suffering and fatigue attendant on such a disease. Mrs. Aikey leaves to mourn their loss a husband and six children. The funeral occurred this morning at 10 o'clock, interment being made in the cemetery at that place.

—Alfred Grove is now driving his own milk wagon around Bellefonte. And it can truly be said he has one of the handsomest turnouts that comes to Bellefonte, a nice, large wagon, painted a blue-white and cream-yellow. The question now is, are the colors on his wagon emblems of the milk and cream he dispenses to the customers?

A ROBBERS' CAVE.

A report was in circulation on Monday that the hiding place where Lewis and Connelly concealed their money had been discovered in a cave at the head of Six-mile run, but that the air in the cave was so foul that it prevented search.

Lewis and Connelly were famous, highwaymen who ravaged this country from Lewistown to Clarion in the early part of the century and were supposed to have enormous wealth concealed somewhere. One of the robbers was shot and killed at Sinnamahoning while holding up a stage coach. The other died in prison at Lock Haven. Ever since they were wiped out people have hunted diligently all over the Alleghenies for the place where they hid their illgotten gains. The last story is that before Lewis died he revealed to a friend the hiding place, which he designated as being in a cave at the head of Six-mile run. He told his friend to find the place, get the money ($62,000) and divide it with Lewis' sister. His friend searched diligently, but could not find the cave. When he died he revealed the secret to Lewis' sister, who never told it until just before she died, which was lately, at Lock Haven. She told the story to a Lock Haven man, who, with a friend, came to Philipsburg and went to look for the cave, but being unacquainted with the locality they could not find it, and had to tell the story to some one else, and so it got out.

About twenty fellows, so we are told, went out on Monday and located what they believed to be the place. It is a cave in a rocky fastness known as the Wolf Rocks.

The cave is well known to hunters, but has never been explored fully on account of foul air. If you believe that Lewis' and Connelly's treasure is buried in its gloomy depths you had better go and help find it.

HE LOVED HIS COUNTRY.

I recall one which struck me as amusing and I have since heard Major Brodhead, of happy memory, get it off at Grand Army encampments with great unction. The story goes that a patriotic private was doing picket duty on the Rappahannock that terribly cold winter when Burnside lay along Falmouth keeping watch of Lee on the Fredericksburg side. It was one of those mean winters, when it would freeze for three days and thaw the balance of the week, and it was colder when it was thawing than when there was an honest freeze. The night was bitter cold, and as the picket walked his beat he dropped into soliloquy. When a soldier hasn't anybody else to talk to he found comfort in talking to himself, and this particular soldier ran on in this style:

"Yes, I love my country, but just look at those shoes; nice protection they are for such a night as this. But (straightening himself up and grasping his musket more firmly) I love my country; but look at this shoddy overcoat and these pants. Fine lay out, this for a grateful government. But I love my country; but if I ever get out of this scrape, I'll be d——d if I ever love another country."

HUNTING ON A BICYCLE.

Centre county bicyclists have yet to learn to do what a Salem (Oregon) man did, according to the Independent, of that place, which says:

"James Davis is probably the first person who went deer hunting on a bicycle. He was visiting Idaho last week, and, as the country there is comparatively smooth and free from underbrush, he borrowed a rifle from a gentleman and went out for a ride. The inflated tire allowed of his traveling swiftly and noiselessly over the ground, strewn with pine needles, and before he pedaled many miles he came upon an unsuspecting deer quietly browsing just ahead of him. The result was that he killed the deer and returned to the hotel with it slung over his shoulder."

DEATH OF MARTIN BRUMGART.

At the home of his son, Austin Brumgart, at Zion, Martin Brumgart departed this life on Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock, after an illness of more than a year with dropsy. Mr. Brumgart was one of Centre county's oldest residents, being aged 74 years and over. He was born and raised in Miles towdsnip, and removed to Walker township, near Zion, about forty-six years ago and where he has made his home ever since. He was one of Walker township's best citizens. A prosperous farmer, a consistent christian gentleman, always kind in manner and gentle in disposition. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. George Garbrick, of Spring township, and Mrs. Daniel Johnson, of State College, and his son, Austin Brumgart, of Zion.

—If there was more push in the world there would be fewer hungry, half-clothed, homeless, suffering children, broken, dissipated men and women; less need of almshouses, houses of correction and homes for the friendless. Push means a lift for a neighbor in trouble. Push means a lift for yourself out of the slough of despondency and shiftlessness; out of trouble, real or fancied. Push never hurt anybody. The harder the push is better, if it is given in just the right direction. Always push up hill—few people need a push downhill.

$10,000 PAID OUT.

Bellefonte Considerably Benefitted by This Enterprise.

On Wednesday the officials of the Central Pennsylvania railroad paid out for labor, and for labor only, something over ten thousand dollars, which represented the earnings of just one month. At such times as these, when every other industry in and around Bellefonte is at a standstill, what a blessing it is to have one enterprise in active existence to pay out monthly to the laboring men of this community the nice little sum above specified. And not only is it a benefit to the laboring men, but through them this sum of money is distributed to Bellefonte merchant is and dealers and thus to every branch of trade.

Considerable speculation is now rife as to who will compose the working force of the new railroad once it is put in active operation. As everyone well knows situations will be opened up for at least one hundred men, to fill positions from station agent down to trackmen, but thus far the list is not complete. It is expected that it will be in a few days, at which time the DAILY NEWS will publish the list in full.

As was stated in this paper a few days ago the road will be opened for passenger service on Monday, December 4th, and freight traffic will be commenced in ample time for everybody to receive their stock of Christmas goods over that route. There will be three passenger trains to Mill Hall and return daily, the first leaving Bellefonte in time to make connection with the early trains over the Beech Creek east and west, and the last one to connect with Beech Creek express east about 8 o'clock p. m. This train will have through sleepers to Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

The rates over the Central Pennsylvania will be the same as those now in existence on the Beech Creek. Excursion tickets can be had at the rate of two cents per mile. Mileage books can be purchased good for any member of a family, and also good over the Beech Creek, Reading and N. Y. Central railroads.

As has already been stated in this paper the general offies of the company are at 304 Walnut street, Philadelphia, where President Walter N. Ross; Vice president S. H. Hicks, and secretary and treasurer Wm. J. McHugh hold forth, but at the offices in the Bush Arcade, this place, where General Superintendent J. W. Gephart and general freight agent Frank Warfel are domiciled is the place where, in the course of time, nearly all the business of the road will be transacted.

THE MEAT WAS GONE.

On Wednesday Mr. Howard Heaton, of Central City, butchered. After cutting up his meat he allowed it to remain on a bench an hour or so to cool. When he came to get it to salt down he made the discovery that two large pieces, a ham and shoulder, were missing. Evidently some person who was fresh meat hungry, had just reached over the fence and confiscated the two pieces.

FARNSWORTH DEAD.

J. N. Farnsworth, of Lock Haven, who was stricken with apoplexy on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock while in the Elk club rooms, died Wednesday night at 11.30 o'clock. He never regained consciousness, and his end was calm and peaceful. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence on Grove street, interment to be made in Highland cemetery.

John Nelson Farnsworth was a son of Anthony Farnsworth, one of the oldest residents of Lock Haven. He was born in November, 1846, and was consequently 47 years old at the time of his death. He was a man of genial disposition, a pleasing conversationalist, and had the pleasing faculty of making everybody happier on account of his presence. Having a good education and business qualifications, that fitted him for positions of trust and profit, he was honored by the citizens of Lock Haven electing him to the responsible office of City Auditor, and was serving his second term in that position at the time of his death. He was a prominent and influential member of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, and held his membership with Camp No. 161 that city. At one time he was State Master of Forms and Ceremonies, and was at the time of his decease Secretary of the District Anniversary Association. Mr Farnsworth was also a member of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, holding the office of Secretary.

During the time Alderman J. W. Harris was postmaster in that city Mr. Farnsworth was a clerk in the office, and served eleven years in that capacity. In his family, he was affectionate and kind, and his death is a sad affliction for his wife and two sons whosurvive h im.

Road Grading Machinery

The Champion Road Grader has fulfilled all the claims made for its superior capacity. The Supervisors of Union Township purchased one during the spring of 1892, with which they have made the most improved public roads in Centre county. Prior to this year the Supervisors were required to assess six mills road taxes—this year, 1893, they assessed four mills, next year, 1894, they propose to assess three mills road taxes and improve their roads more than they did with six mills road taxes before they purchased their Champion Road Grader from Messrs. McCalmont & Co. Formerly the tax payers had to do the work with shovels and picks, now the horses do the most of the work.

Champion Rock Crusher.

The Champion Rock Crusher has no equal or competitor, when we compare the quantity of stone crushed in one day, seventy to eighty tons, with the power required to operate it—for the proof of which, we refer those interested or who may want to buy a stone crusher to improve their public roads, to the supervisors and tax payers of Walker twp, Centre Co., Pa., as well as to S. D. Tice, a contractor of Howard, and Wallace White, a contractor of Spring township, Centre Co., Pa., who crushes stone for for macadamizing streets and turnpikes.

Champion Road Roller

After your roads and streets are macadamized, the Champion Road Roller, operated by horses, can be used to great advantage in rolling down the loose stone to make the road smooth. Those in want of Road Machinery will promote their own interest by inspecting the above machinery before purchasing.

Further information, as to prices and merit, will be furnished on application.

MERCURIAL

Mr. J. C. Jones, of Fulton, Ark., says of S.S.S. "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. Leading physicians prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with unsuccessful results, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of agony. After suffering four years I gave up all remedies and commenced using S. S. S. After taking several bottles, I was entirely cured and able to resume work. Canada Thistle - - Exterminator.

FACTORY AT BELLEFONTE, PA., IN WHAT IS KNOWN AS THE BELLEFONTE CAR WORKS.

This is a discovery that is destined to prove a blessing to every farmer and land owner.

Whites Canada Thistle Exterminator is a preparation discovered and put on the market by Samuel White, of Bellefonte, Pa. A tablespoonful of this preparation placed on a thistle will kill every stalk so treated in five days from the top of the ground to the extreme length of the root. This has been proven by actual experiment. If applied according to directions furnished with every lot sold it is guaranteed to do the work. A number of Centre county land owners have given the Exterminator a thorough trial, among whom are Brockerhoff Bros. and W. Fred Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds has instructed his farmers to get as much as is needed to exterminate this pest from all of his farms.

—Have you seen the nobby new wagon of the Bellefonte Steam Laundry, Laurie and Yerger proprietors? It certainly is handsome enough to attract attention. These enterprising young men will be ready for business next week.

—The snow that fell Tuesday afternoon and evening was not very deep, but there was enough of it to entice sportsmen out for a rabbit hunt. Among those who went out were John Wagner, Ed. Foster and William Dukeman. The returns are not yet in.

—Mr. S. H. Diehl will give an exhibition of his World's Fair and Johnstown flood stereopticon views in Garman's opera house on Wednesday evening, November 29th, Prices, but 15 and 25 cents. Everybody should go and see this unexcelled exhibit.

—Sunday was a lovely day and the attendance at all the churches in Bellefonte was uniformly large. The services were in the main very interesting. Dr. Laurie's sermon in the evening was a very able production and was based on the text found in Isaiah 13:3-4.

—The freshmen and sophomores of State College played a game of foot ball Saturday for the College championship and the Sophs won by a score of 40 to 0. Fisher and McCaskey distinguished themselves for '96, while Robinson and Dunsmore won the laurels for '97.

BOROUGH COUNCIL'S DOINGS.

A Long Session—No Additional Lights—Water Street to be Improved—Other Business Transacted, Etc.

When the hour for convening borough council arrived, 7.30 o'clock, but five members, Messrs. Hillibish, Williams, Garman, Bauer and Bush, just enough for a quorum, were present. Mr. Williams moved that Member Hillibish act as president pro tem. Carried. Council was called to order and Clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of previous meeting, which were approved. During the reading of the minutes member J. C. Miller made his appearance.

There being no verbal communications the clerk read a petition from the West ward asking for an arc light on Water street, in the neighborhood of J. S. Waite & Co's carriage works. Also a petition from residents of North Penn street for an arc light on that thoroughfare.

The Water committee had no special report to make. Fire and Police committee reported necessary repairs made to the Logan and Undine hose houses. Market committee reported $2.70 received since last meeting. Nuisance committee had no report to make. The Finance committee reported progress.

President Potter made his appearance at this time and took his accustomed seat at the head of the council table. Member Gerberich also came in at this time.

J. Linn Harris was present to complain of a nuisance created by the water sinking north of the cemetery and flooding cellars further west on Howard street.

The Electric light question was brought up again for discussion. The Finance committee was not favorable to the making of any contract which would increase the expenditure for the same any considerable amount. After some discussion a new proposition from the company was read, as follows:

The company would furnish any number of arc lights between 20 and 30, and burn the same all night, for the sum of $8.75 per light per month. For any number between 30 and 35 $8.50 per light per month. For 36 lights, or over $1 00 per light per year. Incandescent lights, to burn all night, for $21 per light per year. The company considered they could not deviate one cent from the above, and this proposition was made on the basis of a five year contract. Mr. Miller moved that the present contract be continued for a period of three years, with the same number of lights, and in the meantime if the number of arc lights be increased to the number sufficient to have the benefit of the lower rate, the company to make the necessary allowance; the lights to burn all night, only on exceptionally brilliant moonlight nights. The motion was seconded by Mr. Hillibish. Mr. Bush moved to amend the motion by making the contract for one year instead of three; seconded by Mr. Gerberich. Mr. Miller would not accept the amendment, but submitted the same for debate. Mr. Kitson, Superintendent of the company, said that they would not make a contract for less than three years. This occasioned a few hot words from a couple of the members but the fire soon died out. The amendment was put and lost. The original motion, as made by Mr. Miller, was then put and also lost, which settled the light question for the present.

Mr. James Harris came in late and presented a petition asking for a side walk, street lights, and all the necessary improvements on Water street from High street to the new depot of the Central Pennsylvania railroad. This petition was signed by almost every business man in Bellefonte.

A petition was presented from residents of Spring and Curtin streets asking that an arc light be placed at the corner of said streets. It was voted to lay all applications for arc lights on the table until council decide whether additional lights be put on or a new contract be made.

Supt. Kitson made a proposition to burn the present lights all night from now until the 10th day of January, when the present contract expires, at the price quoted in proposition given above. Council voted to accept the same.

Council confirmed the election of Chief Fire Marshall and first and second assistants.

In the matter of the water nuisance on Howard street, the matter was referred to the Street committee and borough engineer for investigation and report at the next meeting.

Dr. Hayes was present and made a statement regarding the removal of the steps in the pavement on Allegheny street leading from his premises to those of W. F. Reeder, Esq. The steps were torn away some time ago when Dr. Hayes laid a new pavement and put down a new gutter by order of council. Council voted to give Mr. Reeder a grade for his pavemeet and gutter and request him to fix the same; if he fails to do so in a reasonable length of time, council to have same put down at Mr. Reeder's expense.

Regarding the petition for a boardwalk and further improvements on North Water street, it was voted that property owners on the west side of Water street be notified to put down a suitable and substantial boardwalk. At this juncture there arose a discussion as to who owned the property on the west side of the street and who would be liable for the cost of same. It seemed to be the general impression that council would be the only material body that would be responsible for same. The whole matter was finally settled by President Potter directing the Street committee to take the borough engineer, locate the pavement and get grade and report same at the earliest possible time when council will convene in special session to authorize the putting down of same.

C. C. Bell was present and reported that the crossing from Crider's building to the Benner residence had been repaired according to directions of the Street committee and asked pay for same. After considerable sparring between the Bell brothers and members of council it was voted that council pay the judgment obtained by C. C. Bell before 'Squire Foster, which is $32 and costs. A bill was sent in by the Mill Hall brick works for brick for crossing. It was voted that an order be drawn for the payment of same.

A request from Mr. McMonigal, who is preparing an industrial edition of one of Bellefonte's papers, that the council as a body, have their pictures taken and cuts of the same made for publication, was, after very little consideration emphatically declined, as the cost of same would have been between twenty-five and thirty dollars.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Water pay roll	$45.38
Michael Shields, carpentering	8.20
Thos. Shaughensey, market clerk	1.00
Geo. A. Bayard, load of sand	1.75
Logan Fire Co., hauling, etc	15.50
Police pay roll	35.50
Wm. Utz, blacksmithing	3.90
Mill Hall Brick Co., 1000 paving brick	15.00
	$125.68

In addition to the above an order was to be drawn in favor of borough solicitor, Clement Dale, Esq., to satisfy the judgment obtained by C. C. Bell, the amount of which would probably be $35. Council then adjourned to meet in special session at the call of the President.

HELP THE POOR.

We are in receipt of the following notice:

"A general meeting of the "Needlework Guild" will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms in Crider's Exchange on Thursday afternoon, November 23rd, at 3 o'clock. This association is non-sectarian, its object being to provide clothing and food for the poor during the coming winter. All the ladies in Bellefonte are cordially invited to co-operate in this good work by their presence and aid.

MRS. JOHN L. KURTZ, President.
MISS MARY THOMAS, Treasurer.
MRS. W. R. GAINFORT, Secretary.

In commendation of the above association it can be said that they are advocating a noble cause and the work they are doing is more Christ-like than making long prayers in public places. "Helping the poor," is their motto, and that was one of our Savior's greatest teachings. The ladies throughout the length and breadth of Bellefonte should render all the assistance to this deserving association it is in their power to do. There are a large number of people in Bellefonte, who, unless times brighten up considerable soon, will need more or less aid during the winter in the shape of food, fuel and clothing and who better can render it just in the right way than a band of warm hearted ladies.

RESOLUTIONS OF LOGAN GRANGE.

We cheerfully give space to the following resolutions adopted at the last meeting of Logan Grange:

WHEREAS, Logan Grange has received, with profound sorrow, the intelligence of the sad death of Maggie M., daughter of our worthy Brother and Secretary, Mr. W. H. Miller. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend to the afflicted family our sincere sympathy, and that the Worthy Lecturer be directed to communicate these resolutions to the bereaved family.

THE SABBATH QUESTION.

Plain Talk by Rev. Lee Wheeler on The Subject.

A large number of people were present Sunday evening to hear Rev. Lee Wheeler speak upon which day should be observed as the Sabbath—Saturday or Sunday.

Mr. Wheeler said that there is no question so agitating the religious world to-day as the Sabbath question. That many ministers of all denominations are of the opinion that Sunday keeping has no foundation in the Bible, and are giving utterance to such convictions, and thousands of people in all lands are changing and keeping the Seventh day according to the commandment. He will show in another discourse that the Bible also foretells a world wide reform to take place upon this subject in the last days and that it will be the point of controversy, and a conflict will be waged against it by opposing powers of church and state united.

Mr. Wheeler said further as follows "The word Sunday is not in the Bible and the term first day of the week—its equivalent occurs only eight times," now if any of those texts tell us it is the Sabbath then we must keep it, for as Christians we have agreed that "All scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction for instruction in righteousness that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" 2 Tim. 3 16,17. Thats what Scripture is for,—to thoroughly furnish a man in doctrine and righteousness that he may be perfect in all that's profitable. Now that being so, the Bible thoroughly furnishes us with evidence for Sunday keeping or it is no part of righteousness, is not profitable, and should not be preached as doctrine. Then we agree also to "prove all things and hold fast that which is good," 2 Thess, 5 21.

The Speaker then noticed all the texts that spoke of the first day of the week or Sunday demonstrating the following results "It is nowhere called the Sabbath, no one was ever told to keep it, no one ever said anything about its being kept, Christ never rested on it, nor regarded it, never told anyone else to do so, never even mentioned it. No apostle was ever known to keep it or hint at such a thing and Neander one of the most acknowledged church of historians says:

'The festival of Sunday was always only a human ordinance, and it was far from the intention of the apostles to establish a divine command in this respect,—far from them and from the early apostolic church to transfer the laws of the Sabbath to Sunday."—Neander's Church History, Rose's trans page 186, ed, 8 43.

Sir Wm. Domville says:

"Not an ecclesiastical writer of the first three centuries attributes the origin of Sunday observance either to Christ or his Apostles.

Rev. James Miller of the Methodist Cnurch Chicago says of Sunday observance:

"We have done this without any pretense of authority from either Old or New Testament except that which is strained and forced to meet the emergency of an argument." Chicago Herald May 22. Much such testimony might be given. The council of Laodicea inforced the present practice about A. D. 364, when Christianity had become paganized and corrupted, and after Christians had observed the Seventh day for nearly three centuries."

OFFICERS NOMINATED.

At the regular meeting of Gregg Post, No. 95, Dept. of Pa., G. A. R., Saturday evening the following nominations for officers to be elected for 1894 were made:

Commander—Thomas Donachy and W. T. Fitzgerald.
S. V. C.—Charles Eckenroth.
J. V. C.—Monroe Armor.
O. of D.—J. I. Curtin.
Q. M.—William Jones.
Chaplain.—David Bartley.
Sergt. of G.—John Bryan and Daniel Everhart.
Ordinance Officer—John Bryan.
Trustee—W. B. Maitland.

—The Lock Haven Express says there is nothing in the Philipsburg Ledger's Lewis and Connelly treasure story. A resident of Lock Haven knows the story well and also the spot where the supposed treasure is said to be hidden. He says there is no cave there. There is a shelving rock, under which wild animals shelter themselves from the storms, and that is the only thing resembling a cave in that locality. Nevertheless, true or not true, there were many of the neighboring papers bit like a trout at the story, some even going so far as to get "additional facts" and spin the yarn out to a column's length.

—The Christian Endeavor meeting was led on Sunday evening by Samuel Taylor who chose for his subject "Gentleness, a mood of spirit." Previous to the regular meeting there was a short song service. These Christian Endeavor meetings are very interesting and conducive to much good, and it is to be hoped that before long every young man and woman in Bellefonte may join the organization.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

On Sunday, November 12, the eleven year-old adopted son of Mr. John T. Fowler, of Fowler, undertook to amuse himself by catching and pulling the tail of a two-year-old colt. The colt not being used to that sort of amusement kicked at his young tormenter with the result that one foot landed square in the boy's face, cutting and bruising it frightfully. The little fellow wandered to the barn where he was later found by Mr. Fowler and taken to the house and the doctor sent for, who rendered the necessary medical attendance. As there were no bones broken, the young lad will likely be in fit condition to celebrate Christmas.

General D. H. Hastings was an arrival in Bellefonte on Monday evening. The General is a busy man these days, but nevertheless, he always finds time to spend a couple of days every week with his family and friends in this place.

Mr. Isaac Maitland, of Williamsport, was suddenly called to Bellefonte by the illness of his little son who, with his mother, were visiting Mrs. Maitland's father, Mr. Daniel Garman, on High street. We trust the child's illness may prove nothing serious.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gearhart, of Chester Hill, Clearfield county, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversay last Friday. They were married October 27, 1833, in Halfmoon township, this county, at the home of Mrs. Gearhart, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kephart.

General Beaver and Mrs. J. L. Spangler were two Bellefonters who visited Hastings and Spangler in Cambria county this week. On Friday evening the General was in Clearfield where he made an eloquent address before the meeting of the Clearfield County Christian Endeavors, Sheriff-elect John P. Condo spent Wednesday night and part of Thursday in Bellefonte. Mr. Condo, we are informed, has already selected his attorney and deputy to serve with him during his term of three years. This being the only newly elected officer that will have the making of any appointments, the applications for the position of deputy sheriff were sent in by the score. To utilize the letters he received Mr. Condo might start an autograph collection; it would certainly give him a varied and unique exhibit.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

What Supt. Gramley Has in Store for the Centre County Pedagogues.

As has already been announced in these columns the Centre county Teachers' Institue will this year be held in Garman's opera house December 18th to the 22nd. County Superintendent, C. L. Gramley, is head over ears in work getting ready for the same and the coming session promises to be one of unusual interest and abundant instruction. There are now about 260 teachers in Centre county and it is expected every one of this number will be present. Supt. Gramley has not yet got his program of instructors complete, but among the number the following able gentlemen will be present:

Dr. Phillips, of the Westchester State Normal; Dr. Groff, of Lewisburg; Prof. George Twitmire, superintendent of the Honsedale, Wayne county, schools; Ex-Supt. Brungard, of Lock Haven. Prof. Swift, of Ridgway, will act as musical director and also do other work. Gen. James A. Beaver and Prof. John Hamilton, will explain to the institute the work of the State Forestry Commission and show the necessity of a fuller and more faithful observance of Arbor day, so far as the planting of trees is concerned.

EVENING ENTERTAINMENTS.

For Evening lectures and entertainments Superintendent Gramley has arranged the following program:

Monday evening—Lecture by Dr. Phillips, of Westchester. Subject, "Bits of Europe."

Tuesday evening—Lecture by Dr. Enders, of York. Subject, "Mind your own business."

Wednesday evening—Lecture by J. J. Pinkerton, Esq., one of the most prominent attorneys at the Westchester bar. Subject, "Patrick Henry."

Thursday evening—Elocutionary and musical entertainment by the famous Schuman Concert Company.

Thursday will be Directors' Day, when it is hoped that as many of the school directors in Centre county as possibly can will be present at this annual meeting, as there are several questions of the utmost importance to be discussed. This meeting will likely be held in the High School room at the brick school house on Bishop street. Among those who will speak to the directors will be Prof Lose, principal of the Philipsburg schools.

The Institute will adjourn on Friday in ample time for the teachers to make their Christmas purchases and reach home on Saturday. For a full daily report of the work of the Centre county institute see the DAILY NEWS of that week.

—A sad accidental shooting affair occured in Tyrone on Sunday evening, by which a young man may lose his life. The two sons of Mrs. Phoebe Dean, Charles, aged seventeen, and Edward, aged eleven years, were playing with two revolvers while their mother was at church. One of the revolvers was empty while the other was loaded. Finally Edward, supposing he had the empty revolver, pointed it at his brother's face and, with the remark said in fun, "I'll shoot you," pulled the trigger. The boy was horrified when an explosion followed and his brother fell to the floor seriously wounded, the ball having entered to the right of the tip of the nose, coursed downward, lodging in the back of the neck. Dr. G. W. Barket rendered the necessary surgical attendance but it is yet hard to tell how serious the young man is injured as the ball has not yet been found.

COL. KELLER IMPROVING.

The rumor in effect that Col. Keller is worse in his southern home at Aiken, South Carolina, is not correct. The writer was informed by Harry Keller, Esq., this afternoon that a letter received on Monday stated that his father was somewhat improved and his condition was such as to warrant a hope of steady improvement. Mr. Keller's many friends in this place, will be glad to hear such cheering news of the health of one whom all love and respect.

DEATH OF SAUL LYON.

On Tuesday Messrs. William and Moyer Lyon, in this place, received a dispatch informing them of the death of their uncle, Saul Lyon, which occurred at his home in Danville on Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock. Mr. Lyon's death was caused by cancer of the liver. He was one of the most prominent citizens of Danville and leaves a large fortune to an only daughter. His remains will be buried in Danville.

Hon. John T. McCormick, one of Centre county's representatives in the state legislature, greeted friends in Bellefonte Tuesday evening. Mr. McCormick is a whole-souled, genial fellow, and there are plenty of worse men than him in the legislature making laws for the people.
